Russian Armies Make Progress In Drive On Smolensk

Occupy Scores Of Additional Localities Says Russian Report From Area

GERMANS HALTED IN DONETS SECTOR

By NATALIA RENE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 18.—Russian armies advancing on the central front toward Smolensk were reported today to have occupied scores of additional inhabited localities, killing more than 1,300 Nazis and seizing numerous prisoners and war supplies.

At the same time battlefront dispatches revealed that the Soviets have regained the initiative on the Donets river line southeast of Kharkov, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy and taking a number of "favorable positions."

Launch Encircling Move

Berlin admitted that Soviet attacks had breached Axis lines defending Staraya Russa, Nazi bastion south of Lake Ilmen. The German radio said the Russians, under command of Marshal Semyon Timoshenko, had launched an encircling attack with artillery, infantry, tanks and three divisions of airborne troops. The attack was said to have "made a small breach in the German line."

An official communique said that south of Belyi, 80 miles northeast of the pivotal German stronghold at Smolensk, Soviet forces continuing their successful offensive captured 32 inhabited localities. In another sector a battalion of enemy infantry was routed and more than 400 killed and wounded Nazis were left on the battlefield.

Fierce Battles

In the vicinity of Chuguyev, 25 miles southeast of Kharkov, Russian troops are engaged in fierce battles, the communique said. One Red army unit repelled a violent German attack and then launched a counter-attack that gained a large unnamed locality. Five hundred of the enemy were killed, many taken prisoner and much booty captured in this sector.

Front-line reports indicated that the Russians had strengthened and tactically improved their defensive line behind Kharkov and that

Conferences May Have Discussed 'Hitler Mystery'

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The mystery of Adolf Hitler today is believed to have been raised in the talks which British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden is holding with American officials.

Just prior to Eden's arrival in Washington, the American government received reports of rumors which were prevalent in Switzerland and other neutral countries in Europe to the effect that Hitler was suffering from a nervous breakdown.

These reports followed quickly on the heels of unconfirmed rumors that he had withdrawn, or had been removed, from active control of the German high command.

There were some indications that these rumors originated, or at least found encouragement, in German quarters.

Diplomatic sources in Washington are inclined to believe the actual whereabouts of Hitler, and the motives behind the rumors, have been the subject of some discussion in the Eden talks.

Suspicious Of Rumors

American officials are extremely suspicious of the rumors. There has been no definite confirmation from any reliable source that Hitler is ill or has been removed from control of the high command.

In authoritative American quarters in Washington, the view prevails that Hitler's failure to make any recent public appearances

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The office of price administration today laid new emphasis on car-sharing clubs after lifting the east coast pleasure-driving ban and cutting in half the basic ration of 5,000,000 eastern "A" gasoline ration book holders.

Anticipating a deluge of applications for supplemental rations, the OPA instructed local rationing boards to pay strict attention to car-sharing as a requirement for obtaining "B" and "C" gasoline books after March 22.

Kansas Senate Approves Labor Control Measure

Bill Empowers State To Closely Scrutinize Labor Union Activities

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., March 18.—The Kansas Senate today concurred in House amendments to the labor control bill and sent the measure to Gov. Andrew Scheoeppel.

Terms of the bill empower the state of Kansas to impose a close scrutiny on the finances of labor unions and to control union activities.

Originating in the Senate, the measure was passed with amendments yesterday by the House by a vote of 84 to 30. The Senate by a vote of 28 to 7, concurred.

The governor has given no indication whether he will sign or veto the bill.

The measure requires licensing of union agents, prohibits sit-down strikes and jurisdictional disputes, and makes mandatory financial reports by unions, reports of fees, dues and assessments, and reports of salaries paid union officials.

Raid Meat Store In Philadelphia

OPA Agents Arrest Manager On Charges Of Violating Price Ceilings, Conspiracy

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 18—Office of Price Administration agents and a deputy marshal today raided a wholesale meat store in downtown Philadelphia, and arrested the manager and cashier on charges of violating OPA price ceilings and conspiracy.

Those held were Martin Becker, manager, and Frances Lazar, bookkeeper. Becker told OPA agents that the proprietor, Morris Cherkasky, was out of town.

Cherkasky operated as an intermediary for government contracts, an OPA spokesman said, and was permitted to buy "over the quota" of meat intended for lend-lease or the armed forces. He then allegedly put the meat on the black market instead of turning it over to government contractors.

Heavy Bomb Raid On Rabaul

New Britain Jap Base Is Badly Damaged By Allied Raid

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 18.—Allied heavy bombers dropped nearly 400 bombs on the Japanese Ropopo airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, in an early evening attack and left huge fires over the field, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

Many explosions rocked the field and it was believed that a number of grounded planes were destroyed. Only two enemy night fighters rose to attack the Allied raiders but both were driven off.

All Allied planes returned safely from the attack.

Medium bombers blasted enemy bases in the Kai islands, south of New Guinea causing heavy damage at Langgoer which was attacked in two waves. Two enemy luggers were strafed offshore.

An Allied heavy bomber attacked three enemy coastal vessels in McCluer Gulf, New Guinea, with unobserved results.

The only enemy retaliation was an ineffective attack by a single plane which raided the town area of Merauke, on the south New Guinea coast.

Allied troops mopping up Japanese remnants in Northern Papua in the mambare river area have discovered elaborate enemy defense positions, presumably prepared for the Japanese force of 15,000 men wiped out in the destruction of their convoy in the Bismarck sea.

Reveal Three Subs Are Sunk In Sea Battle

Three Day Running Engagement Between U-Boats And Convoy

SOME OF CONVOY SHIPS ARE LOST

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 18 — At least three Axis submarines have been sunk and many others damaged in a three-day sea-air convoy battle in the North Atlantic, an Admiralty announcement revealed today.

The battle occurred last month when submarine wolfpacks descended on the convoy, which did not escape without losses.

The Admiralty described the action as "one of the greatest battles of the winter between naval escorts of a convoy and U-boats."

(In Washington, the United States Navy Department disclosed that a coast guard cutter had engaged six enemy submarines in another battle, ramming and sinking one of them and dispersing the others with depth charges. The cutter, the 2,000-ton Campbell, was towed to safety at an east coast port with a gaping hole in her hull.)

72-Hour Engagement

British, American and fighting French warships took part in the 72-hour running engagement with Axis submersibles in the North Atlantic and were effectively aided by American Liberator bombers and British Sunderland flying boats.

The Admiralty announcement failed to specify the number of Allied ships lost.

It was the former American destroyer Beverly that sighted the first

Three More Air Raids On Kiska

Jap Submarine Base In Aleutians Is Being Steadily Pounded

SECOND DAY OF TERRIFIC ATTACKS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Navy disclosed today that the Japanese submarine base at Kiska is one of the principal targets of America's intensified aerial offensive in the Aleutians, as it reported three more U. S. bombing attacks against the enemy in that area.

The second successive day of terrific bombing attacks on Kiska was marked by an aerial dog fight between eight U. S. Lightning fighter planes and eight Jap planes in the Kiska area, in which two and possibly four enemy aircraft were shot down. U. S. losses were not reported, but were believed to be light.

The submarine base was mentioned by the Navy in three separate reports of bombing raids that occurred March 16, the day after six smashing assaults had been made in the same area.

The first raid was made during the morning by Liberator heavy and Mitchell medium bombers, and hits were observed on the main camp area and submarine base.

During the afternoon the bombers returned for another attack on the submarine base and other installations and left a large fire burning in the enemy camp.

SISTERS SHOT BY UNIDENTIFIED MAN IN PHILADELPHIA

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Mrs. Joan Jones, wife of a Philadelphia policeman, and her sister, Rita Marano, 21, were seriously wounded today when an unidentified man in a dark coat walked up to them and opened fire with a pistol.

The women, both shot in the abdomen, were rushed to Methodist hospital, where physicians announced their condition as "critical".

Their assailant fled as Patrolman James Greco ran to the scene, but one witness declared the gunman wore a policeman's uniform. A city-wide search was launched immediately to locate Mrs. Jones' husband, Patrolman James Jones. Authorities said they were told the couple were estranged.

War Fund Report Tonight Awaited

Expect Workers Will Submit One Of Best Reports Of Campaign This Evening

WORK HARD TO COMPLETE JOB

Filled with confidence that tonight's report will boost the American Red Cross War Fund campaign well along towards its goal, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, chairman of the campaign, is awaiting tonight's checkup with eagerness.

Splendid progress is reported from many sections of the county, and encouragement has been received by the workers engaged in the campaign.

The attitude of those who really know what the Red Cross is doing for the men in service was expressed by James L. Kennedy of R.F.D. No. 1, who resides in the Ellwood City district. Mr. Kennedy has three sons in service and although not a wealthy man, he contributed $30 to the campaign, giving $10 for each boy. His thre sons, Robert, Joe, and Charles, are all overseas. Mr. Kennedy stated that he just wished people really knew what the Red Cross is doing in this war, particularly for the boys overseas. If they did, there would be no difficulty in going over the top, and the solicitors would not have to beg people to give.

CITIZENSHIP OF KUHN NULLIFIED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—The American citizenship of Fritz Kuhn, former leader of the German-American Bund, and that of 10 other leaders and members, was nullified today by Federal Judge John Bright following a long hearing. All had acquired citizenship by naturalization.

In a 74-page decision Judge Bright denounced the Bund as "thoroughly un-American and subversive."

Gen. MacArthur Observes Anniversary Of Arrival In Australia Confidently

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 18.—"My success or failure will depend primarily upon the resources which our respective governments place at my disposal.

"My faith in them is complete.

"In any event, I shall do my best. I shall keep the soldier's faith."

It was Gen. Douglas MacArthur speaking a little less than a year ago at Melbourne, Australia, on his arrival from Adelaide following his dramatic dash across the Pacific from Corregidor.

One week previously he had come to the Australian mainland, announcing that his ultimate mission was to relieve the Philippine Islands of Japanese domination.

Observes Anniversary

It was yesterday that Gen. MacArthur observed the first anniversary of his Australian command. The occasion found him a serious, quietly-confident general, rededicated to unyielding defense of Australia and New Guinea, and firm in his belief of eventual victory over the Japanese foe.

Meeting correspondents informally, America's ranking field general voiced grateful appreciation to representatives of the world's press and again pledged his whole-hearted support of their efforts to tell the story of the Pacific war.

The impression was gained from MacArthur's fighting attitude that win, lose or draw, and despite appreciable shortages in every field of equipment, he intends to battle to the death for what he now holds.

No Defeatism

There is no defeatism in MacArthur's announced analysis of the formidable concentrations of Japanese forces which are being massed within easy striking distance of his vast command—only a determination to protect those key strongholds at all costs.

U. S. Aerial Drive On Japs Mounting

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—America's mounting aerial offensive against advance Japanese stronghold in the Aleutians and the Solomons today threatened to touch off another explosion in the vast Pacific war theater.

Although American forces are operating on the assumption that the enemy may strike hard again, developments indicated that U. S. pilots are paving the way for important new blows against the Japs.

The six heavy bombing raids reported by the Navy in one day against the Japs on Kiska left no doubt that the American high command is determined to sweep enemy forces off that Aleutian island as soon as possible.

In the south Pacific U. S. airmen, backed by fleet units, are continuing their harassing assaults against Jap bases in the central and northern Solomons.

MINE PARLEY IS RESUMED

Operators And Miners Continue Attempt To Negotiate Wage Contract

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—Joint scale committees representing the United Mine Workers Union and the northern and southern bituminous coal mine operators met again today behind closed doors in attempt to negotiate a contract covering wages and working conditions for 1943.

"Very considerable progress," was made yesterday in the executive committee sessions, it was reported, but no agreement was reached on the union's basic demand for a flat $2-a-day raise in pay.

John L. Lewis, president of the union who has delivered an ultimatum threatening to halt production of soft coal after April 1, unless the miners' demands are met, remained away from the committee sessions.

Progress of the committee meetings was reported by Ezra Van Horne, chairman of the Appalachian joint wage conference, Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the northern operators, Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Operators Association, and John O'Leary, vice-president of the United Mine Workers.

"Each side has been clearing up points," Burke said. "We have made some progress, very considerable progress."

"That's right," Burke continued. "We have reached no conclusions on any point."

Third Of Jap Ships Are Sunk

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18—American bombers, submarines and surface craft have sent to the bottom of the Pacific about one-third of the Japanese ships which were floating at the time of Pearl Harbor, it became known today.

Disclosure of the staggering Jap losses was made by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, in an address before 1800 members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

But the navy chief warned that Japan, like the United States, has been conducting an all-out shipbuilding program and about half this lost tonnage already has been replaced. He set the net loss of Nipponese shipping since December 7, 1941, probably averaged about 14 per cent.

Town Of Gafsa Is Recaptured By Americans

Lightning Advance Of More Than Thirty Miles Is Made In Tunisia

YANKS PUSHING BEYOND GAFSA

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 18.—In a lightning advance of more than 30 miles, crack American field troops today captured the central Tunisian town of Gafsa and swept on toward El Guettar, desert oasis southwest of Sened on the main railway line bisecting the country.

Gafsa was taken without opposition as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops cleared out when the United States forces moved forward.

Latest dispatches said the Americans had taken the town of Lala beyond Gafsa and were moving swiftly against El Guettar.

From the latter point the Americans will be able to strike northward against Sened.

Occupation of Gafsa was announced in an official communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters.

Way Is Cleared

An American armored combat team pushed into Gafsa after Mitchell bombers and fighter planes had paved the way with heavy bombing and strafing of enemy transport and troops within the town and along nearby roads.

Reconnaissance planes observed enemy forces hurriedly evacuating the town.

The attack was launched the night before last from the Feriana area.

Progress of the American forces was slowed to some extent beyond Gafsa by the presence of thousands of mines and booby traps left behind by the retreating Germans. A strategic hill called Djebel Rekaiz,

Need Women In War Work

State Defense Director Sees Need For Host Of Women Workers

CHILD CARE CENTERS BEING CONSIDERED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 18—State Civilian Defense Director Ralph C. Hutchison warned today that "it looks as if the time is coming when every woman who can stand on two feet and fill a production job will be needed."

He disclosed that the War Manpower Commission has estimated that 117,000 women workers, including the mothers of 50,000 children, will be needed in Pennsylvania in coming months. As a result, he said, child care centers must be established in all communities.

Addressing the committe on child care of the State Defense Council, Dr. Hutchison stated:

"We haven't begun to win this war yet. We are beginning to scrape bottom now in manpower for the draft. We still have ahead of us such a great turnover in manpower that we do not realize how many women will have to go into business and industry to sustain war production and our civilian economy.

"It looks as if the time is coming when every woman who can stand on two feet and fill a production job will be needed."

"Then," he added, "we will need more child care centers in Pennsylvania than any of us imagine."

Dr. Hutchison revealed that the state council has requested $187,500 in state funds to assist local defense councils in purchasing equipment for child care centers, but emphasized that their operation and maintenance will be the responsibility "of the community, the local government and the mothers who benefit."

CONFERENCES MAY HAVE DISCUSSED 'HITLER MYSTERY'

probably has been due to the fact it would be difficult and embarrassing for him to explain the German reverses in Russia.

These sources believed that if and when the Germans score an important victory in Russia, or elsewhere, Hitler will make a dramatic reappearance before the German people.

The possibility, of course, is not ruled out that Hitler's apparent withdrawal from the limelight may be a deliberate preliminary move to a German peace offensive, directed either at Russia or at the United States and Great Britain.

May Try Peace Move

If the German high command becomes convinced that Russia cannot be defeated, some leading diplomats believe a logical alternative for Germany is to try to make peace with the Soviets.

It is recalled that Stalin, in his recent public statements, has emphasized that Russia's aim is to destroy Hitlerism. At the same time, he has said that it is not Russia's aim to "destroy all military force in Germany," because that would be "impossible" and "inadvisable."

In some diplomatic circles, it is thought these statements may have encouraged the German general staff to believe they might be able eventually to make peace with Russia if they gave the impression that Hitler had been removed from power in Germany, and, perhaps, committed to an insane asylum.

This is all conjecture, but there is a good deal of it going on in diplomatic and official circles in Washington at the present time.

TOWN OF GAFSA IS RECAPTURED BY AMERICANS

six miles east of Gafsa, was taken during the drive, which now places American forces on the direct route to the vital port of Gabes on the Tunisian east coast.

British Patrols Active

At the same time, patrols of the British Eighth Army made a slight advance in the northern part of the Mareth Line area despite dust storms.

American Mitchell bombers signalled the start of the advance by heavily bombing Axis troops in the Gafsa area. American flown Spitfires and Airacobras followed up with smashing strafing attacks over the whole area despite adverse weather.

Sticks of bombs straddled targets at Gafsa, starting two large fires. Fighting planes made continuous low-level strafing attacks on the enemy columns withdrawing from Gafsa.

Bombers scored direct hits on four tanks and two armored cars on the road between Gafsa and El Guettar. Three trucks filled with troops were shot up and put out of action. One anti-tank gun was destroyed along with two large trailer trucks. One of the latter which was carrying gasoline exploded. A number of other Axis gun positions were silenced.

Very little Axis air opposition was encountered during the entire operations.

Strategic Location

London, March 18.—The allies have retaken the important road junction of Gafsa in central Tunisia, the Algiers radio reported today.

Gafsa was captured by the Germans Feb. 16 when Field Marshal Erwin Rommel launched his ill-fated attempt to smash the allied lines in western Tunisia. It is situated at the most strategic crossroads in central Tunisia, close by an important railroad station on the line running to Sousse on the eastern coast.

The Algiers station, which is controlled by Gen. Henri Giraud, said that allied planes are heavily bombing the Mareth line and that the Axis is trying to hamper the expected all-out assault of the British eighth army by maintaining a heavy artillery bombardment.

In northern Tunisia, British troops drove back an Axis force that had punched a hole yesterday in British positions in the Tamera region west of Sedjenane.

Punch Hole In British Line

A BBC correspondent with the first army said two Axis companies succeeded in punching a hole in the British lines in a dawn attack.

"Our men fought back strongly and had restored the position by nightfall," his dispatch stated.

British forces were reported counter-attacking Axis units that overran French positions on high ground north of Tamera. They were said to be making headway and have captured 40 Axis prisoners.

Preceded by screaming squadrons of Stuka dive-bombers, the Nazis made some headway in a dawn attack that caught the British by surprise. Another enemy thrust near Sidi Nsir was repulsed.

Previously Berlin radio broadcasts announced that the British eighth army had begun its long-expected major offensive against the Mareth line in southern Tunisia.

Claim Major Attack

The Nazi Transocean news agency declared that Gen. Sir Bernard Law Montgomery's forces had launched what appears to be a major attack at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday following a terrific barrage that lasted all day and increased in intensity towards evening.

Announcement by the Germans that Axis forces are holding their positions "in general" was seen as a tacit admission that they may have already begun to retreat in some sectors.

Battlefront dispatches told of sharp thrusts by British troops before the Mareth line and by American units north of Gafsa.

An allied headquarters communique revealed that British first army patrols operating in northern Tunisia, despite heavy rains, had inflicted casualties on advanced enemy units and that British bombers had blasted the Axis landing ground near Gabes on the eastern coast and the Gabes-Sfax railroad, cutting it in several places.

At the same time, it was said, American tanks had clashed with Axis tank units north of Gafsa.

Thus evidence mounted that American and British forces were coordinating their efforts with the reported major offensive launched by the eighth army.

REVEAL THREE SUBS ARE SUNK IN SEA BATTLE

U-boat at a distance of seven miles. Stalking the sub until less than two and a half miles of water remained between them, the Beverly summoned the 25-year-old British destroyer Vimy to join the chase.

As the sub dived, the Vimy attacked with depth charges and forced it to the surface. Then both destroyers opened fire and the sub's crew took to the water. Forty survivors were picked up by the Beverly.

The same night five U-boats renewed the attack on the convoy and their number increased hourly during the following two days and nights, according to the Admiralty announcement. The Beverly engaged five of them, forcing one to surface and possibly sinking it with gunfire and depth charges.

The Beverly attacked and damaged two more submarines the following morning.

Liberators and Sunderlands, attacking the U-boats from the air, were credited with destroying at least one submarine and damaging four.

GEN. MAC ARTHUR OBSERVES ARRIVAL IN AUSTRALIA

at earlier meetings with the colorful four-starred leader and who were privileged to be present yesterday there was something strikingly different, something strikingly reassuring about Gen. MacArthur.

You get the immediate impression that MacArthur only is waiting his chance to fight like hell. Everything about him suggests just that.

MacArthur's bemedalled dress uniform is gone. In its place are khaki trousers (just comfortably baggy here and there), and a loosely fitting flying jacket. As he talked he puffed incessantly on his well broken-in pipe, often pausing to salvage the dying tobacco embers from complete extinction.

Confidence Seen

He smiled broadly many times—something we never saw at other conferences—as he cleverly parried an embarassing question or recalled some humorous incident. As always he paced back and forth in his large office. But this time he was not a restlessly pacing man driven almost to desperation by problems of overwhelming magnitude but a man who measured his steps calmly, almost placidly, using them to emphasize his comments.

To correspondents who long have been acutely aware of the dangerous shortages in many aspects of the Allied reserves in this area to fight even a holding war, the calm confidence of MacArthur was most welcome.

We knew we were standing before a man who although basically a ground general is 100 per cent air conscious. His strategical concept is to balk the Japs and employ air power wherever he can to destroy a maximum number of the enemy at minimum expense to his own hard-pressed forces.

His ability to turn what first appeared to be Japanese victories into decisive defeats for the foe no doubt has instilled MacArthur with confidence. At Milne Bay in the Papuan campaign and in the Bismarck sea battle, MacArthur tasted his first victories after a year of fighting a gallant but losing battle.

The taste was sweet. To us the most reassuring signs were the changes in MacArthur himself. The tired, haggard lines are gone. His happiest battle smile is there. The fall of Bataan and Corregidor no longer gnaws at his sensitive spirit. A new determination to hold and then recapture has taken the place of bitterness over needless defeat in his mind.

In every way, we who saw him knew that "Fighting Doug" was back—and back to stay.

O.P.A. CUTS VALUE OF 'A' GAS COUPONS ONE-HALF, MARCH 22

comes off and "A" book motorists are provided with "unrestricted" driving—90 miles a month of it.

Determined to hold non-occupational driving to a minimum, even though allowing easterners freedom of choice in the use of their automobiles, the OPA announced that the "A-5" coupons which become valid next Monday must last for four months instead of two.

Although the value of "A" coupons remains at three gallons, they are, in effect, cut to one and one-half gallons by the extension of the period during which they are valid. "B" and "C" coupons remain unchanged at three gallons.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown two weeks ago placed east coast motorists on an "honor system" of complying with the pleasure-driving ban and announced then that there was a "fair probability" of its being revoked March 22.

Permits Little Driving

The cut in the basic ration, however, will permit little non-essential driving even though there are no strings attached to the motorist's use of his car. The reduction will retain the saving—30,000 barrels of gasoline daily—achieved through the pleasure-driving ban, Brown said.

Petroleum Administrator Ickes informed Brown that supplies of gasoline for civilian use in the east will "continue to be short," despite the fact that they will be 4.7 percent higher in April than during March.

Ickes said 333,000 barrels of gasoline daily could be made available for eastern civilian and industrial use next month, an increase of 15,000 barrels over March. However the increase will be required for seasonal upturns in demand, particularly for spring plowing and planting, he said.

Build Up Heating Stocks

The two officials said consumption must be held to a minimum in order to permit the building up of heating oil stocks for next winter.

Car owners who have been using their "A" books for going to work will become eligible for supplemental rations under an amendment to the gasoline rationing regulations to be announced in a few days, OPA said.

Brown joined with Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman in warning motorists to form car clubs. Local defense councils will aid car owners to find ride sharers, it was announced.

"The car owner who agrees to fill his car with neighbors and fellow workers to take them to and from work on a car-sharing basis is making the best possible use of his car, and the mileage rationing program is designed to give them the gasoline he requires for this service," Brown and Eastman explained.

U. S. AERIAL DRIVE ON JAPS MOUNTING

in the tempo and scope of the raids on Kiska during the past two weeks, while the assaults in the Solomons appeared headed on a round-the-clock schedule.

In the Atlantic America's fleet units and air forces in co-operation with other United Nations forces moved relentlessly to clear the shipping lanes of Axis U-boats in preparation for the approaching invasion of Europe.

Intensity of the anti-submarine campaign was emphasized in the Navy's disclosure that three weeks ago the U. S. coast guard cutter Campbell fought off a Nazi wolf pack of six U-boats and sank one of the raiders.

The Campbell was helping escort a convoy in the north Atlantic when it ran into a nest of lurking subs. After dropping depth charges on five enemy submersibles, the Campbell rammed the sixth and then sent it to the bottom with devastating gunfire at point blank range.

Although the cutter was damaged in the action, it reached port safely for repairs.

Beginning to Move

These developments left no doubt that America's global offensive against the Axis is beginning to move and that henceforth U. S. forces will set the pace and pick the scene of action.

This forecast was reflected by Secretary of the Navy Knox in a speech in New York in which he said that "the initiative is ours."

"Thanks to the mighty exertions of Russia, Britain, China and our country, we have reached the point where the conduct of this struggle will be from now on, of our own choosing," Knox said.

At the same time the secretary pointed out that Japan's merchant fleet is being whittled down. He estimated that losses up to March 1 totalled at least 1,857,000 tons of enemy shipping, or about one-third of her entire pre-war merchant fleet.

He pointed out, however, that through seizure of foreign vessels, new building and salvage, Japan added greatly to her original fleet.

"But the total tonnage available to Japan today (due to losses) is probably 14 per cent less than that with which Japan set out to establish her grandiose 'greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere'," Knox said.

The Stone That Returned to Dust!

This noteworthy diamond ultimately found its way into the castle of the Ali Pasha, Khedive of Egypt, in 1818. All regarded the diamond and his wife, Visalica, as his two greatest treasures. When he was assassinated in 1882, the aged ruler, in his last moments, ordered his men to strangle Vasilica, and crush the stone to a powder, so that his assassin should not benefit by the possession of either. The lady escaped, but the diamond did not . . . so the Pigott is a thing of the past.

AIR WAR POWER

THE most savage phases of air war are at hand, Allied leaders predict, with city devastation and plane destruction greater than at any time in world history. Victory may not come to the United Nations through air power alone, but certainly Allied wings over Europe—and over Japan—will have much to do with the outcome.

The Royal Air Force has bombed Germany and military objects in the occupied countries daily and nightly, with few exceptions, for more than six weeks. It is being aided by more and more American planes on daylight raids. No longer do communiques speak of the number of planes engaged—they tell how many tons of bombs were dropped, which is a really better criterion of what is being visited on the enemy.

This blitz without precedent has both its offensive and defensive objects. The Americans and British have been most concerned with blowing up German submarine factories and plane manufacturing plants. But they also have increased the bombing of railway locomotives and railway junctions. They are adding to the creeping paralysis of Germany's transport, and the test of how effective all this work has been will come when invasions are actually attempted on the continent.

But while the world continues to talk of new Allied offensives, it must not be forgotten that Germany also has been planning for this spring. There are three vulnerable spots, all within reach of German troops and also possible jumping-off places for quick new attacks on the Allies.

Turkey may be attacked via Bulgaria and Greece if the Germans feel they can make a new bid for Near East oil. Spain may be invaded if it is judged in Berlin that such a diversion might get the Allies off Rommel's neck. The third alternative is southern Ireland, which has defied any Allied (even American) garrisoning.

Experts believe that Allied air power is sufficient to fend off any of these attacks. Certainly it will take the combined efforts of astrologers, street brawlers elevated to Nazi coronets, Prussian generals with hereditary battle plans, and an accommodating stupidity of the Allies to keep Germany from defeat within the next 12 to 15 months.

NAZIS STEP UP FORCED LABOR

House-by-house raids by Nazis in Lyons and other districts to round up French men for forced labor in Germany afford a new insight into conditions within the Reich.

At first the Nazis startled the world by demanding that workers in France and other occupied countries be sent to Germany to supply the labor shortage. But now, from all accounts, the bullying conquerors are seizing men and shipping them off to Germany in freight carload lots without allowing them to communicate with their families.

The Nazis have made themselves authorities on mass slaughter, even issuing standardized rules for large-scale murder. But in rounding up workers for forced labor and shipping them to Germany like animals they are becoming adept at a form of torture hardly less cruel than outright killing.

All of this certainly will intensify the hatred of Frenchmen for their oppressors and help to unify France in support of the Allies. Yet the vigor with which the Germans have pounced upon the bands of French rebels in the Haute-Savoie region indicates that the French are not sufficiently well equipped with arms and other supplies to stage a successful revolt, at this time, against the occupying forces.

More than ever it becomes plain that an overwhelming Allied invasion of the European mainland is essential to smashing Nazi war power and breaking Germany's hold on the conquered areas.

RICK'S POWER

The only explanation of the people's great admiration for Capt. Eddie V. Rickenbacker, and of the ovations that he receives wherever he goes, is that he speaks their minds about civilian participation in the war effort.

His own career is what the people like to think of as typically American. He had little of what is known as formal education—that is, schooling. But he acquired education as a mechanic's helper, then a mechanic in the automotive industry, and as an automobile racer who excelled both as a mechanic and as a daring but sure driver.

He rose in the First World War from chauffeur to the AEF's leading ace, best pilot and ablest air attack leader. The same qualities which enabled him to achieve this series of successes carried him to the peak in air transport during the peace years. The jobs that he has held have always meant more to him than any of the many risks which they have involved. That is the kind of American that Americans with some of Rick's qualities like.

He has done more than any other man to awaken this country's war industry workers to their vital responsibility in the combat operation. A few chronic agitators of the "keep 'em crying" stripe have sniped at him recently, but only to their own injury. To the vast majority of Americans his voice came in striking contrast to the sugared outpourings from Washington.

Captain Rickenbacker speaks the thoughts of the people in the words of the people. And his fight must be as welcome to the men in the armed forces as it is to all other good Americans.

Time is fleeting and, as Americans will learn, so are those forty-eight points.

With butter rationing just around the corner, the man who likes a little bread with his butter will learn what OPA means—"One Pat Allowed."

The smart boys in Washington are planning a "victory sausage" with 10 per cent cereal filler to replace all sausage now on the market. A more appropriate name would be "defeat sausage."

An expert on family life writes that it is generally known daughters are more expensive to their fathers than sons. This is a debatable point, but there is no question that daughters are often pretty expensive to other men's sons.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VALUE OF RELIGION DURING WARTIME

Every true American wants to help win this war as soon as possible and in the meanwhile keep our families, neighborhoods and nation fit for victory. We fathers want our boys entering the armed forces to be morally and spiritually, as well as physically, fit now and when they return.

To this end we can contribute most as we keep ourselves fit to win the affection and esteem of our sons.

Father and Son

Nearly every father, though he may have let his interest and effort at religion wane, believes down deep in his heart that religion has tremendous value to any boy who cultivates it constantly wherever he goes.

The son knows his father believes this, but unless the father demonstrates it in his daily life toward the other members of his family, and by his regular attendance at public worship, the belief hardly impresses the son as a deep-burning conviction.

To my fellow-fathers who do believe there are values in religion for their sons let me say that we can prove our belief to be sincere in a very effective way. We can betake ourselves regularly to church, and generously support the program of the church by participation in its various activities, and by financial aid.

When we write the son in the armed forces, we might occasionally express the hope that he be-friend the chaplain and go regularly to religious services. I am sure, however, most fathers would be more persuasive were they not to exhort their sons to go to church but would drop the information now and then in their letters that they themselves go regularly.

An Opportunity

In some cases the son in service might be tremendously impressed were he to discover that his father, who had neglected his own spiritual nurture for years, has returned to religion and is faithfully working at it.

I like to imagine what it would mean to thousands of sons in the armed forces if, while in some remote part of the world, they were to discover that their dads, who had not gone to church for years, are now attending public worship regularly. I wonder also what it might mean to the youths and adults in our home communities.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WRONG END TO.

The Calamity Janes of the country are predicting food riots. Well, it may come to that if the wise boys in Washington continue their rationing ideas. Rationing would be very well if an intelligent program was instituted and followed out, which would enable the farmer, the rancher, the workman, the canner, the packer and the retailer to make a little money.

But what does the OPA do about price ceilings? They simply put a ceiling on the retail price of everything. In other words, they start at the wrong end. What they should do is first to place a ceiling upon farm labor, on cannery labor, on packing house labor and then an intelligent ceiling could be placed upon the products of the canneries and the packing houses, following which there could be placed an intelligent ceiling upon the retail prices of canned goods and all products of the packers. If there is to be any regulated economy, the ceiling should be first placed upon the price paid for labor and for all the costs necessary to produce. That being done, an intelligent ceiling could be placed on all products in the hands of retailers.

Of course, everyone knows what the real trouble is in Washington. The confusion all arises out of politics. The politicians are unwilling to place any top price either to the farmer or to the workman. The farm vote and the labor vote must be appeased and until there is a strong, powerful, intelligent leadership created in Washington, a leadership which is not afraid of the voter, a leadership that will accomplish an intelligent system without thought of what the voter wil do about it; and until that happens we may expect terrible things to happen—even food riots.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON.—Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota: "An organization of the United Nations with the authority and the power to stop any future attempts at military aggression offers the best hope for maintaining world peace and stability after this war."

MILWAUKEE.—Prentiss M. Brown, price administrator: "We must hold the line where we are on all wages or lose the fight against inflation."

WASHINGTON.—Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of house appropriations committee: "There is not going to be enough labor on the farms . . . or enough food to supply the nation and her Allies."

NEW YORK.—Edward R. Burke, former senator from Nebraska: "No one can doubt that if we have anything like a real shut down of the bituminous coal mines we could not only fail to win the war within the short time in which we hope to win it, but that we would run a very real risk of losing the war."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:09. Sun rises tomorrow 7:07.

If you think eating is important you had better raise a lot of things this summer.

New Castle often stands for a lot of rackets. The cure is a good kick in the pants for those who try to pull them.

Having a house with two or three bath rooms is better now than a shed for two or three cars.

If Hitler is dead some of his bad eggs are carrying on for him.

It looks as if people will still be able to take a salary of $25,000 a year if they can find a way to get it.

Teacher—What, Bobby, you say you wouldn't like to be President? Bobby—Not just now. If it's all the same to you, I'd rather wait until a couple more elections and things cool down a bit.

When you give liberally to the Red Cross you are not only helping our soldiers at the front, but you are helping yourself. Give all you can!

Most of the volunteer war workers are working on thankless jobs, but they are doing their best to help win the war.

Lamppost—So the doctor told you to go to a warmer climate? What was the nature of the trouble you consulted him about?

Summerville—I went there to collect a bill.

A Teddy bear sat on the ice.
As cold as he could be.
But soon he up and walked away.
"My tale is told," said he.

Bobby came home from Sunday school expressing more than usual interest in what he had heard. He said flying machines were mentioned in the Bible. Asked to explain in what connection, Bobby said the teacher told him about Esau selling his heirship to his brother, Jacob.—Handed in.

It is claimed that half of the human diseases are also diseases of animals. Poor animals!

You can't expect the honest man to worry much over the government's mountain of debt. It's what he owes the grocer that gives him the greatest concern.

A good think to remember, and a better thing to do, is to work with the construction gang, and not with the wrecking crew.

A thin woman berating a big tough may not be brave. It doesn't take courage to face a lion if you know it won't hurt you.

It is not birth, nor rank, nor state, but get-up-and-get that makes men great.

Remember, it is easier to float a rumor than it is to sink the truth.

It's a fine thing now to have a few good friends who do not drink coffee.

Frank—, hear that Jack got his wife out of a department store.

Dot—Is that so? It looks as if he had grabbed her off the remnant counter.

Seedless grapes have been developed. Now if some one will get out some skinless grapes it's hard to tell how we would eat them.

Now that the meat shortage is becoming more than a laughing matter, there is more interest in raising pigs. Which reminds us of the farm boy who was given a pig for doing chores and insisted on raising it his own way.

"I don't believe you're feeding that pig properly," the father mentioned one day. "It doesn't seem to be fattening at all."

"I don't want to fatten him yet," answered the boy. "I'm waiting until he gets as long as I want him, and then I'll start widening him out."

Less than a third of the people of this world are white—and even those that are don't always act that way.

It is claimed that women who really need the money are the best workers. Looks that way.

HELLO BILLIE

I took her to a night-club,
I took her to a show.
I took her almost everywhere
A girl and boy could go.
I took her to swell dances,
I took her out to tea.
When all my dough was gone I saw
She had been taking me.

We have heard a lot about billions of dollars recently and now and then we hear about trillions of dollars. Know what a Trillion is?

Cigars now have bands on them reading "It's a Boy" and "It's a Girl."

THE GREATEST SOCIAL AND DOMESTIC ASSET

"What do you consider the greatest asset in social and domestic life—beauty, charm or brains?" I list beauty first because men are attracted more by a pretty face than any other quality a woman may possess; also a pretty woman is so decorative that she is invariably sought after by hostesses to grace a dinner party or a week-end house party.

Ella G.

It is invaluable asset for it is first to attract; but if a woman possesses beauty alone she soon palls. The combination of beauty and charm and brains is surely a triple gift of the gods. There is, however, one indispensable attribute you have omitted. One that is essential to success in marriage as well as social life . . . tact or diplomacy. Without that, our success is temporary. For a woman may have the physical beauty of Venus and the wisdom of Minerva, but if she has not tact and diplomacy, she is lost socially. People will not endure the truth about themselves if the truth is unflattering. And only the diplomat knows how to create and maintain a harmonious atmosphere in her home and among her friends. Therefore, I think tact is one of the most important, if not the most important rung in the ladder of social and domestic success.

Charm also is a prerequisite, for one cannot be completely charming without tact.

Question: When telephoning an order to a tradesman, should I announce myself as "Mrs. Jones" or "Mary Jones"? May I properly give my future daughter-in-law a shower?

Answer: Mrs. Jones to the first question . . . no to the second. You should be included as a guest when showers are given by her friends, but you should give none yourself.

Tomorrow—Possessive Mothers.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope.

NOTHING HIDDEN

The instructor was addressing the charm school.

And girls," she said, "you should bear in mind that a woman's physical charms are her chief weapons in the battle of love."

"To obad," murmured one of the girls.

"What's that?" demanded the instructor.

"I said it was too bad that a lot of women never can be accused of carrying weapons," was the answer.

Blitz dear, go and give your piano teacher a nice big kiss. Oh, yeah! And get a big sock in the jaw like pop got.

The average dollar bill wears out in less than a year. But few folks are able to carry them that long.

Some people don't seem to realize that freedom of speech should be reserved for those who use the speech of freedom.

We were told a story about a woman who was asked by her husband what she did with the grocery bill.

"I sent it back, dear."

"Sent it back. Why?"

"I wrote across it 'Insufficient F . . .' just as they do in the bank with overdrawn checks. Wasn't that all right?"

A local bird said he was tired of life. A friend said to him, "In that case why don't you go over to Germany and shout 'Down With Hitler!'"

Prices nowadays seem to think there is more room at the top.

We never saw a purple cow but we have seen blue milk.

A farmer visited his son's college. Watching students in a chemistry class, he was told they were looking for a universal solvent.

Farmer: What's that?

Student: A liquid that will dissolve anything.

Farmer: That's a great idea. When you find it, what are you going to keep it in?

There is no law against dreaming. It is one of our freedoms.

There are many inexperienced clerks nowadays who are doing their best to substitute for clerks who were called into the service.

A Sweet Young Thing approached a clerk in a department store and asked where she could get some silk covering for her settee.

Said the new clerk: "Two aisles down in the lingerie depaartment."

Congressmen know the remedy for every war-hindering mess, but they'd rather harm the passive many than enrage the belligerent few.

There are two kinds of women: the one who tries to change her husband and the one who exchanges him.

American Sailor: "Battleships! Why, the flagship of our Navy is so large that the captain goes around the deck in his automobile."

British Sailor: "You ought to see our flagship! Have a look at the kitchen. It's so large the cook has to go through the Irish stew in a submarine to see if the potatoes are cooked."

Way back yonder accordin' to one of our oldest lawyers, court was in solemn and dignified session. Suddenly from outside the courthouse a mule brayed.

"Overruled," roared the judge.

And it is said that the attorneys at the bar turned red in the faces.

With apologies to the Navy, toast: "My wife may she ever be right; but whether she's wrong or right, I'm wrong."

Licked New Dealers Rebound Into Jobs
Lame Ducks Waddle Into High Pay Posts
Defeated Candidates Get Juicy Berths

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

TO GET A FAT presidential appointment:

Be a member of congress. Plug industriously for presidential policies. Get into them if possible on several pretty bitterly-fought issues, concerning which the White House needs all the legislative help it can muster. See that you are on the executive mansion's winning end of the fight. Then be a candidate for a lawmaker's renomination and re-election in your home state or district and be beaten by some anti-administrationist in the primaries or at the polls a bit later.

Stick to that prescription and if you are not inducted shortly into some succulent federal job, by executive selection, you will be the rare exception, indeed.

As is well known, New Dealerishness was strongly predominant in the last congress. As also is well known, the New Dealers suffered a corking setback at the last election, not only from the Republicans but also from the anti-New Deal Democrats. This meant that a lot of voters wished a lot of the New Deal's Capitol Hill's supporters into the discard on all economic questions.

The "antis" remained as pro-war as anybody, but they were not by any means in accord with the administration's way of waging it.

The administration has demanded approximately a 99 per cent fighting front effort, whereas its critics have insisted that that was overdoing matters—that we can fight more effectively by utilizing 20 per cent or so to furnish supplies, fodder, et cetera, in our home midst, to keep the actual scrappers in operation. This, of course, is not to mention little babies, octogenarians and miscellaneous other noncombatants.

Between economics and the war, last November's domestic row was pretty bitter.

The anti-administrationists did not outright win it, but they left it doubtful.

Between New Dealers, on one side, and anti-New Dealers on the other side, including opposing groups of strategists in both fa-

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Writer.

Old man Kaiser took over management of an airplane plant and 10 minutes later three planes took off without pilots . . . they couldn't wait.

The old man is the cussedest producer this war has seen, and if you hear a swarm of bees overhead this summer it won't be bees, but planes rolling out of the Kaiser-managed plant.

They'll come rolling out nose to tail, and the only thing that's worrying us is maybe there won't be enough sky to get them up into.

Old man Kaiser has got a post-war plan that nobody has paid much attention to. He thinks that after the war it would be a good idea for industry to provide jobs and for labor to take 'em.

That is too novel an idea to get much space in the dream book of post-war planning.

Like old Beardsley Rumil, he hasn't got enough background in teacup and crystal ball reading to get up there with the big boys in the planning field.

He hasn't said a word about giving something for nothing, and that comes pretty close to giving aid and comfort to old economic royalists who go around thinking they've got to work to live.

Thought for the day: Keep 'em guessing.

Lessening His Liabilities

Washington, March 18.

MR. PRENTISS BROWN, head of the OPA, does not get a tithe of the publicity which his predecessor, the bombastic Mr. Leon Henderson, achieved. He indulges in no bicycle-riding stunts; he does not dance the rhumba, and he is not the hero of the crackpot press.

BUT HE is doing a much better job. Or, at least, he will a better job when he finally succeeds in cleaning up the mess in which the organization had been gotten. The cleansing most needed is the weeding out of the collection of smart young radicals who were installed a year or so ago and who have been having a beautiful time wielding a power for which they are utterly unfit and handling problems the elements of which are far beyond their grasp.

IT HAS been charged that the OPA had become the haven for scores of left-wing New Dealers all getting salaries greater than they ever had before and all thrilled at the opportunity of trying out their soggy socialistic theories in a fascinating field where they could affect the lives of practically the whole population. A machine of more than 50,000 individuals was quickly built up and from the key men there came the flood of those absurd questionnaires, orders, inquiries, instructions, proclamations and pronouncements that so irritated the recipients and confused the public.

WHAT MR. BROWN appears to be doing is, first, simplifying the system, and, second, changing and reducing the personnel. If he does nothing else these two things will be a great gain. Certainly, they are the places to start, because OPA had become not only so unwieldy that it could not work but in addition it was in the hands of the wrong people. Already Mr. Brown has made a good beginning in correcting the latter basic defect. Within th. past week he has gotten rid of Mr. John Hamm, deputy administrator under Mr. Henderson, and Mr. David Ginsberg, who, though he had never tried a law case in his life, was the OPA general counsel.

THE STORY of the 31-year-old Mr. Ginsberg's success in evading the draft and of his recent efforts to land a commission in the army have been fully told in the press. Probably the best idea of the situation is given by the contrast between Mr. Henderson's certifica-

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

If Edward Stettinius, our Lend-Lease administrator likes it, he can have it. I don't want it.

For some reason or other he was before the House Foreign Affairs committee discussing foods with the members.

They were asking him about dehydrated foods and he told them all about it.

Then he pulled out a little yellow block somewhat smaller than a box of safety matches.

"This, gentlemen," he said, "is the next step. Compressed food will replace dehydrated food. And thousands of tons of shipping space will be saved."

He explained that the little rather unappetizing looking block was really a "vest-pocket omelette"—four dehydrated eggs compressed.

After that he produced a tiny jar of a red substance resembling ointment.

"This equals eight pounds of fresh meat," he explained, "and makes a fine hamburger."

I suppose we can live on pills and tablets.

But eating (at least to me) is more than just keeping alive.

I love to sit down at the table and have a bowl of soup set in front of me. That aromatic steam curling up into the air. That lovely mess of vegetables, with little pools of fat and cubes of meat.

Then the roast beef with baked potatoes that delicious gravy, those succulent green peas and a side dish of squash, fresh from the garden.

Now comes the apple pie, with crust as fluffy and as crisp as early spring, a slab of golden yellow American cheese, a cup of coffee bringing home the tropical pungency of Brazil—and then that glorious feeling of contented fatigue and bloated laziness.

Oh, sure, I am a pig.

But have you ever seen an unhappy pig?

No, Mr. Stettinius. Pills may be all right as a war emergency.

But when victory is won and we can all be normal again, give me a good, big unscientific meal from soup to nuts.

You take your pills. I'll stick to bicarbonate.

AUXILIARY TO F.O.E. REPORT OF MEETING

Ladies Auxiliary to the F. O. E. No. 45 met Tuesday evening in their hall on South Jefferson street and plans were made for a silver tea on March 23. Mrs. Harry Buckley and a volunteer group of women will serve.

Mrs. Buckley gave a report of her Red Cross work for the past two weeks with the completion of 24 shirts and 34 romper suits.

Miss Marguerite Potts, acting executive director of the American Red Cross of New Castle, was presented as speaker. She explained in detail the work of the Red Cross in war torn countries, and emphasized especially the urgent need of blood plasma and of the steps taken to bring the blood bank to New Castle. Ladies Auxiliary to the Eagles has pledged to donate to this emergency cause. Also, the sum of ten dollars was donated to the Red Cross drive.

This evening, Ladies Auxiliary will meet in the Wallace block at 7:30 to assist with surgical dressings.

Drill and initiatory teams will drill Sunday afternoon, March 21, at 3 o'clock.

A social period with games and other pastimes being entered into, were brought to a close with the serving of refreshments. The committee includes Miss Nettie Shields, Mrs. Frank Ryan, Mrs. Ellis McCracken and Mrs. K. Fallen.

G. A. M. E. Club

Mrs. Perry Hartman of Highland avenue, entertained the G. A. M. E. club members Wednesday evening, with contests claiming attention. Mrs. Frank Dute and Mrs. Norman Shaffer won the prizes.

Special guests included Mrs. William Reynolds of Warren, O., and Mrs. LeRoy Ward, this city. The latter won the hostess gift.

In serving a tasty repast, Mrs. Reynolds aided.

"I am proud of my husband, of course," Mrs. Hirshfield said. "He told me something of what happened a week ago, but this is war and I didn't say anything not even to the children."

Commander Hirshfield was wounded in the action and Mrs. Hirshfield said she had been informed that he was on the road to recovery.

Chief Nazi Liar Trapped In Own Propaganda Web

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—All doubts as to Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' ability as the world's biggest liar were set at rest today—by the Berlin radio itself.

For weeks the Nazi propaganda minister has been attempting to explain away Adolf Hitler's failure to appear in public on the grounds he has been too deeply involved with running the war show in Russia.

But if he actually is in Russia, he arrived there only recently, for a German domestic broadcast monitored by the British Information Services said.

"In the last few days, the Fuehrer journeyed to the eastern front for talks with his military staff."

The broadcast did nothing to clear up the mystery of where Hitler has been in the meantime.

Some French Guerillas Are Still Holding Out

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 18.—Hundreds of French patriots in the Haute Savoie region of the French Alps have surrendered to German occupation authorities as a result of "ruthless arrests" of civilians supplying them with food, Reuter's (British) news agency reported today.

Quoting the Swiss newspaper, Tribune de Geneve, the report said the situation was now quiet and that the first convoy of French workers left for Germany Tuesday night.

Advices from Berne said the revolt of the patriots began to break up yesterday under heavy pressure from Axis troops, plus the shortage of food supplies. Several hundred left their refuge in the high hills above the plateau of Thonon to give themselves up.

Fighting French sources in London indicated that the rebellion was spontaneous but premature.

Frontier reports reaching London estimated there were as many as 5,000 guerillas still holding out despite threats of Nazi occupation authorities that they face annihilation.

(A British radio broadcast picked up in New York by CBS said that widespread disturbances have occurred in Toulon, Lyons and Nimes as a result of the Nazis' forced labor edict. Wives and mothers are actively helping their menfolk to escape being sent to German war factories, the broadcast said.)

War Department For Universal Service Measure

Secretary Stimson And Undersecretary Patterson Call For Enactment Of Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18—Secretary of War Stimson and Undersecretary Patterson today called for enactment of the Austin-Wadsworth bill for universal service of men and women on the ground that it is vitally necessary to win the war.

Stimson's endorsement of the act was contained in a letter to the Senate Military Affairs Committee, while Patterson backed the measure in testimony at an open hearing.

"If it is democratic to tap a man on the shoulder and send him to fight the Japs in a New Guinea jungle, can it be undemocratic to select a man or woman to load shells, work on an airplane, or stay on a farm? Patterson asked.

Both he and Stimson described the bill as another piece of legislation intended to round out the whole war program, rather than an isolated measure that would undermine American traditions of freedom.

"I endorse this bill," Patterson declared. "It is my firm opinion that it will promote the effective conduct of the war. Its prompt adoption and sound administration will mitigate the loss of life on the fighting front.

MAY ASK EDEN FOR STATEMENT

Some U. S. Senators Seek Statement On Peace And Post-war Aims

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18—Some members of the Senate foreign affairs committee today planned to ask British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for a "straight from the shoulder" statement on Britain's plans for peace and the post-war world.

Eden, who came to Washington to confer with President Roosevelt and state department officials, agreed to meet members of Senate and House committees dealing in foreign affairs in an executive session today.

With the Senate agitated over the Ball-Burton-Hill-Hatch resolution asking the president to summon a United Nations conference to plan for peace and policing the post-war world, the peace question was projected to the fore.

Sponsors of the resolution disclosed plans today to carry their case to the country. Through addresses and by other means, they seek to make the proposal for a permanent United Nations organization to guarantee peace in the future a topic of discussion in every part of the country.

"We find great interest in the proposal," said Sen. Ball (R) Minn. "Many want to delay action, but we believe that when the thing is thought out the resolution will gain in strength."

Foes of the resolution meantime, considered of defeating it by proposing alternative measures.

Sen. Nye (R) N. D. revealed that he is considering a substitute resolution asking the president to summon United Nations representatives into conference with a view of ascertaining their attitude on Woodrow Wilson's famous 14 points of World War No. 1.

The Wilson program included self-determination for small nations opposition to territorial grabs and pledges for future peace.

"Mr. Wilson's 14 points were applauded by all," said Nye. "As I recall, only one of them found its way into the peace treaty."

Historians are people who write communiques after it's over and still tell only the part that makes their side feel good.

Ex-Dog-Food Firm Is Now Peddling Filet Of Dobbin

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Filet of dobbin appeared for the first time today on the dinner tables of Southern California gourmets as a former dog food concern began peddling state-inspected horsemeat for human consumption.

The filly filets are ballyhoed by optimistic packers as being "cleaner, leaner and richer than beef." Three shops in Los Angeles County, dealing exclusively in choice cuts of horse, opened doors for business without benefit of an OPA ceiling.

Horseburger brought 25 cents a pound, while horse striloin and T-bones, range in price up to 50 cents a pound.

Hamilton Fish Stands Firm For Coalition Party

(International News Service)

BOSTON, March 18—Rep. Hamilton Fish stood firm today on his demand for an "American coalition party" headed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and James A. Farley should President Roosevelt run for a fourth term.

"The fourth term issue," the New York Republican, representing President Roosevelt's home district, said, "is already causing disunity and impeding our war efforts. President Roosevelt would render a real service to his country if he should publicly announce that he would not, under any circumstances, be a candidate for a fourth term."

As an alternate ticket, Fish proposed Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio and either Senator Tydings of Maryland or Wheeler of Montana as his running mate.

The Great Game Of Politics

tion to the draft board of Mr. Ginsberg as an "indispensable" or "irreplaceable" man and Mr. Brown's obviously relief over his resignation. At any rate, Mr. Hamm and Mr. Ginsberg have gone and it is understood, in the reorganization now on, other of the "young intellectuals," including several bumptious college professors, who are "not in harmony with the new policy," are scheduled to disappear.

THESE DEVELOPMENTS have caused pain in the higher New Deal circles and some bitter things are being said about Mr. Brown in what some regard as the "inner circle." But, that probably does not worry Mr. Brown. For one thing, he isn't the worrying sort. For another, he stands well with the President. For another, he stands well in Congress. The fact is that the more people like Mr. Ginsberg Mr. Brown gets rid of and the more he simplifies the system the greater progress he will make in converting the ill will toward the organization into good will.

HE DOES not have to get, as has been suggested, a super-salesman for an executive aide. All he needs to secure public cooperation is to convince the country that he has cleansed his agency of its phony economists and half-baked theorists and that he has substituted order and logic for confusion and incompetency. It may take Mr. Brown some time to get around to reorganizing his department along the sound lines of the price-fixing machine of the last war, but it is hoped it will not take him as long as it has the heads of other agencies which started out to disregard the lessons of experience, but in the end had to accept them. It is true Mr. Brown is no ball of fire and he was a lame duck Senator. Also, he is a New Dealer. Otherwise, he would hardly have gotten the job. Nevertheless, he is no wild-eyed world savior. On the contrary, he seems a level-headed man anxious to make sense. And he will have the best wishes of a great many people if he continues along the lines he appears to be going.

Inside Washington

tions, it has been a matter of guesswork.

Let anyone who doubts it consult speeches by Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama and Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, both Democrats but both ferociously anti-administration in today's emergency, and Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, with them unequivocally in the present emergency, though a dyed-in-the-wool Republican.

Well, of half a dozen administrationistic representatives—licked by their own districts' voters—an even six have won federal appointments since then, at pay, at least as good, as they got previously as congressmen.

So have several senators. In fact, three!

Local communities, though, have been overruled by the White House. Their home folk turned these chaps down electorally and the victims have been rewarded for BEING victims by juicy executive berths.

The senators include Josh Lee, Prentiss Brown and Clyde L. Herring. George W. Norris was another of the beaten ones, whom the executive mansion would gladly have provided for, but the aged Nebraskan declined whatever offers were made to him. He admits that his feelings are badly hurt, but he is too old (and perhaps has not the inclination) to do anything about it.

A few of the presidentially-promoted legislators were not beaten for re-election—because they previously had been defeated for renomination in their own party's conventions.

This makes the anti-New Deal Democrats exceedingly hot under the collar. Republicans do not expect to get appointments from what calls itself a Democratic administration, but an anti-New Deal Democrat considers himself as good as any other kind—not to mention being, in his estimation, a heap-sight better one. So he regards himself as insulted, as well as injured.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

if all churches were crowded to capacity every Sunday, with as many fathers as mothers attending and with whole families worshipping together. I can think of no better means of furthering home morale and, therefore, morale among our armed forces.

Gas and tire rationing need not interfere. Many can use trolley cars and buses, and not many persons are beyond walking distance of a church. Naturally we prefer to attend a church of our choice. But we can really worship in any church or any other place, if we really want to do so. No matter how different the procedure, we can carry on within ourselves. If we really care to be religious we can go to church, as a rule.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Suppose the neighborhood druggist called you up and told you that your boy six years old had stolen something from his store?

A. I should calmly report to the boy what the druggist said. Whether the lad voluntarily admitted the theft or not, I should have him go with me to the druggist to see me pay him for the article, having first made sure the druggist would not abuse the child. Then in the presence of the druggist and boy I should say to the boy, "You must not come into this store unles accompanied by an older, responsible person for——— (name the time). If you do I want the druggist to let me know, in which event you will get a sound flogging." If he chooses voluntarily to admit he did it and apologize to the druggist, so much the better. Still better if he offers to pay for the article out of his own funds.

Hints On Etiquette

Even if the crowded condition of street or vehicle makes bumping into another person unavoidable, you should murmur, "So sorry" when you do bump. Accompany it with a friendly smile.

Words Of Wisdom

Good temper, like a sunny day, sheds a brightness over everything; it is the sweetener of toil and the soother of disquietude.—Washington Irving.

Beware the headline-itis. One day it makes you afraid the Russians will conquer Europe; next day it makes you afraid they'll give up.

Worry of
FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

High School Pupils Debate Post-War World Federation

"A World Federation After The War?" Discussed At Junior Town Hall Meeting

Discussion of the question "Should a World Federation Be Established After the War?" took place at a Junior Town Hall meeting in the Senior high school auditorium on Wednesday, with Dr. Byron Williams, editor of Town Hall in New York City, present as moderator.

Students who spoke during the high school junior town hall meeting Wednesday were members of Problems of Democracy classes taught by Miss Sarah Dinsmore and the debate classes taught by Miss Mildred Burleson.

Dr. Williams introduced the speakers: Jane Roberts, who spoke for World Federaiton; Joe Jordan, opposing the idea of a world federation, spoke in favor of a world association; Nancy Gilliland outlined the advantages of a world federation; Madeine Grushetsky gave the disadvantages of such a federstion. Dr. Williams was introduced by Helen Conncry, chairman of the program.

After a question period, with the student body questioning the speakers, Miss Dinsmore summerized the points made by the speakers, and a decision as to the winner was referred to three members of the family acting as judges, Miss Frances McClaren, Miss Elsie Calvin, and Olivia Griffiths.

Papers on the question, "Should 18-year-olds be permitted to vote?" will be written by Madeine Grushetsky and Jane Roberts, who were judged winners, and submitted in a national contest for winners of similar junior forums in high schools throughout the country. The group chosen in the national contest will appear on an April Town Hall program.

Confident Nation Can Equip Eleven Million-Man Army

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Undersecretary of War Patterson told the senate military affairs committee today that he would be "very much ashamed" if the country could not raise, equip, supply and maintain armed forces of 11,800,000 men.

Patterson said that the number had been determined by Gen. George Marshall, army chief of staff, and Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations.

"But I have not the slightest doubt of our ability to supply and maintain forces of that size," Patterson said. "It would involve a much smaller percentage of our total population than forces of similar size in Great Britain, Russia or Germany. I would be very much ashamed if we could not do it."

Labor Importations Help Farm Problem

"Takes String Out Of" Labor Shortage In East, But Not Full Solution

(International News Service)

UPPER DARBY, Pa., March 18—The importation of year-round farm labor from underproductive areas into states hard hit by labor shortages has partially solved 1943 food production problems, it was disclosed today by Regional FSA Director J. H. Wood.

Speaking of the Maine-through-Maryland district, Wood pointed out, however, "this is by no means a full solution to labor problems but in many areas it has taken the sting out of them."

"There is an abundance of plans and a superabundance of discussion, but there is no record of a cow ever having been milked by a plan or by pessimistic platitudes," he said caustically. "It takes manpower, and that's what we've been bringing to the farmers."

Wood disclosed about 8 0 farm workers have been moved from Kentucky and West Virginia into Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York during the first five weeks of the program. If possible, he said, the rate will be stepped up so that another 1,300 will be imported during April.

Bundles' Call Last Of Furniture In For Camp At Shenango

Wicker Or Other Pieces Of Furniture For Day Rooms Urged Turned In This Week

Winding up their undertaking of furnishing 20 day rooms at the Shenango Replacement Center, Bundles for America, Inc., of New Castle, with Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, president, asks that residents who still have any wicker furniture, tables, chairs (preferably at this time the regular straight kitchen type) call local headquarters, phone 6518, immediately.

The wicker pieces will be sprayed a bright Chinese red, and drying time is essential, thus immediate co-operation is asked of residents. Also, repairs to other pieces of furniture require that same be in the storage rooms on East Washington street by the end of this week, Mrs. Johnson states.

New Castle furnished the first five day rooms at the camp, and through Bundles promised to complete 20. However, they are proud to state that the New Castle Business and Professional Woman's club has offered to furnish one, making a total of 21 for New Castle.

In completing the groups of furniture already on hand, it is hoped that residents will respond with a few more pieces to add to the final load to be taken to Transfer on Tuesday, March 23.

Your donation is needed and will be appreciated.

Reveal Finland Has Not Altered Foreign Policy, As Hinted

New Finnish-German Pact Subordinates Finland "Irrevocably" To Hitlerite Aims

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—The new Finnish-German economic agreement reveals that the present policy of the Finnish government is one of "subordinating Finland irrevocably to the interests of the Hitlerite war," the Moscow radio declared today. The broadcast, heard by CBS, said total mobilization was under way to speed deliveries of war materials and manufactured goods to Germany.

"This policy knocks the bottom out of all fables which Finnish propaganda has been spreading lately to deceive public opinion at home and abroad about the alleged special character and special aims, and almost hinting at a change in foreign policy," the broadcast continued.

"Far from changing their course, the German pawns holding the reins of power in Finland are striving to push Finland into even more active participation in the Hitlerite war."

Martin Bomber Plant Is Eliminating Drones On Plant Payrolls

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md., March 18.—President Glenn L. Martin of the Martin bomber plant, today was determined "to do everything in our power to stamp out unexplained absenteeism," in his factory.

Martin, who disclosed that he discharged 167 employes in the last week for chronic absenteeism, declared that "our thousands of people here are working to get bombers to their sons, brothers, husbands, fathers and friends in the fighting forces."

Martin said that 72 persons who failed to show sufficent devotion to their wartime tasks, were also dismissed "for cause."

He explained that the "cause" for which the 72 were discharged was their "failure to show by their work and attitude that they are with us in the gigantic job we are doing."

The Martin plant was the first large war factory to take such drastic action against the production-slowing absentee problem.

No Orchestra For Soldiers' Opera Due To Union Rule

(International News Service)

FORT DIX, N. J., March 18.—Because of an unexplained ruling by the American Federation of Musicians, 1,000 soldiers at Fort Dix took their opera last night with only piano accompaniment.

Nevertheless, the Philadelphia Opera company's rendition of "The Bat" was received with thunderous applause.

Frank Luizzi, president of local 77, which refused permission for musicians to travel with the singing group, merely commented:

"I have nothing to say."

But Producer David Hocker claimed that nine members of the orchestra spent hours trying to persuade union officials to change their minds. According to Hocker, however, the officials said they "didn't want to set a precedent" by letting the musicians perform gratis.

The singers not only gave the performance without remuneration, but also paid for their own transportation, Hocker pointed out.

MICHIGAN POWER COMPANY WORKERS THREATEN STRIKE

(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., March 18.—Gov. Harry F. Kelly moved today to block a threatened strike of Consumers Power company employes scheduled for midnight tomorrow with the blunt warning that it would not be tolerated by the administration.

One hundred thirty-seven hospitals, 2,000,000 private customers and countless war plants depend on the concern for service, the governor pointed out.

Gov. Kelly said he had conferred with Herman R. Chadwick, Saginaw, president of the union's joint council, and warned him not to pull switches tomorrow night, despite the strike vote by union members.

The governor said he was "not passing on the merits of this case," but would not stand for a strike. The dispute arose over interpretation of a contract signed by the concern and the union.

Serious Problems In Transportation Ahead, Warns ODT

Pinch Tightening On Civilians; Eastman Cites Dangers, Especially Of Complacency

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 18 — Serious transportation problems lie ahead, with the pinch growing tighter and tighter on the civilian population, Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, warned today.

Eastman, pointing to manpower and freight and passenger equipment shortages as unfavorable factors, said:

"I think it will be a long war. There is much danger ahead for transportation. There is much danger of complacency in relying on statistics that may be misleading."

He added that priorities and rationing would be resorted to if the time comes when unnecessary travel crowds necessary travel off the nation's trains and buses.

The ODT head also declared that railroad lines must submerge their individualties, and operate as much as possible as a single system.

He said:

"New and strange patterns of business are evolving for the railroads, and unless the lines operate more and more as a single system, we will find ourselves unable to cope with the war time needs."

Beef Shortage Even Without Lend-Lease

Food Chief Hendrickson Also Admits Possibility Of Milk Rationing

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18. — Even if lend-lease and the armed forces took no American beef, there would still be a beef shortage, food distribution administrator, Roy F. Hendrickson, said Wednesday.

At the same time, Hendrickson admitted in an interview that milk rationing "may be ultimately necessary."

If milk rationing is instituted, he said, the individual milk quota could not be automatically set for the whole country, instead, milk rationing would have to be established in each milk-shed with the milk allotment for each consumer determined by conditions in the shed. Thus New York might have a different ration than Boston or Chicago.

This is true, Hendrickson said because fluid milk, a perishable commodity, cannot be divided up equally among the nation's consumers, as are canned goods, coffee and other rationed products.

ROBS POSTMISTRESS OF $3,500, STOPS TO EAT BREAKFAST

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 18—A masked gunman robbed the postmistress of nearby Rayland Wednesday and then stopped to eat a bowl of breakfast food before leaving with his loot valued at $3,500.

Miss Florence Hunter, 55, said the bandit awakened her with a flashlight, and forced her to give him the safe combination. After eating the breakfast food, he departed, leaving her bound in bed.

He also took a pint of milk. The loot consisted of $114 in postal funds, $375 in her own cash and four diamond rings valued at $3,000. Police said they were seeking a man once designated by the FBI as "Public Enemy No. 1" who had been seen in the district recently.

BUS TRAVEL HEAVY THROUGH GROVE CITY

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, March 18 — Increase in travel by public transportation is reflected here with many bus trips operating through Grove City, with five sections. Travel is particularly heavy over weekends, with few empty seats regardless of the number of busses in use.

Busses afford the only through transportation here, except by rail south, and the question of eliminating this limited service is in litigation before the Public Utilities Commission.

HARRISBURG M.P.'S WILL BE REPLACED

PREMIER TOJO GIVES WARNING

Tells Japanese Situation Is "Becoming More and More Serious"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—As Premier Hideki Tojo prepared today to take possession of virtually full dictatorial powers, he announced formation of a board of prominent advisers to the cabinet in an effort "to stimulate an increase of fighting strength, the Tokyo radio reported according to the Office of War Information.

The premier warned that the situation is "becoming more and more serious."

The official Domei news agency said Tojo's extraordinary wartime administrative authority would be promulgated today in the official Gazette. The act, recently approved by the Diet, gives the premier the right to "issue orders" in any emergency involving war production or the conduct of the war. It also gives the premier the right to take over the duties of any other cabinet member, and to replace administrative officials "at will".

District W. P. A. Offices To Close

All Operations To Be Directed From Headquarters At Capital

LIQUIDATION IS SET FOR JUNE 1

By TONY ZECCA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, March 18.—All W.P.A. district offices in Pennsylvania will be closed on March 29 and operations will be administered entirely from headquarters in Harrisburg, State Administrator Richard Irvin disclosed today. Complete liquidation of the eight-year-old "depression" federal work-relief agency is expected by June 1.

"The work is rapidly getting scarcer as we complete and discontinue projects in line with the president's liquidation order and it no longer pays to run the district offices," he explained.

Aside from the W.P.A. headquarters, the work is now handled by three district offices which Irvin has ordered closed. Those affected are the Scranton, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia districts, managed by Frank Snyder, Lyle Buttermore and Jack Lynch, respectively.

"At the height of the depression, when the W.P.A. flourished," Irvin pointed out, "there were 16 districts in the state to decentralize the work and bring the administration of the agency closer to the workers."

Abandonment Ordered

President Roosevelt ordered the abandonment of the W.P.A. on December 4 because, he said, "a national work relief program is no longer necessary." Irvin asserted that since the president's liquidation order approximately 18,000 Pennsylvanians were dropped from W.P.A. rolls as more than 400 projects were rushed to completion.

The state W.P.A. head said all projects in the state will cease on May 15 with only "some paper work" delaying the agency's complete demise. This is expected on June 1.

Approximately 10,964 persons are currently working in the W.P.A. program, he said, including 2,476 trainees in the agency's re-employment classes. Only 296 projects remain.

"Last week all work was stopped on the highways," he said, "and at present we have only township roads and water and sewer lines which we must complete. We will quit operating the nursery schools within the next few weeks."

Although all abandoned projects are not completed, they are brought into useable units, he explained. War industries are absorbing most of the former W.P.A. workers, while a few thousand of the older and incapacitated persons will have to go on relief, he added.

Engineers Society Will Meet Monday

H. A. Tallon, of the Aluminum Company of America, will be the guest speaker at the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers society at its dinner meeting in The Castleton Monday evening, March 22, at seven o'clock.

Talking pictures will be shown in connection with Mr. Tallon's talk, entitled "Unfinished Rainbows", and "Fabricating Practices". The first picture shows the process of manufacturing aluminum from mine to metal, and gives a history of the processing of aluminum. The second picture shows the methods of processing aluminum.

J. M. Horrigan, of the New Castle plant, and his associates collaborated in bringing this program before the society, and there will be a large representation of plant members present for the dinner meeting next week.

COOKING VEGETABLES

A good many of our vegetables are valuable only for their vitamins. They do not contain very much nourishment.

If the vitamins are destroyed by cooking, we do not get any good from them at all.

Cabbage, celery, cauliflower, carrots, turnips and many others are in this list.

A good rule is to cook vegetables the shortest possible time. Then eat them right away.

If they stand on the stove for hours, the vitamins gradually disappear.

When soda is added to green vegetables it helps to keep the green color but destroys the vitamins.

It is better to lose the color than the valuable vitamins.

If you eat in a restaurant or hotel, tell your cook that you would prefer vegetables without soda. Peas taste just as good if they are not so green.

Cabbage and celery and carrots and lettuce and water-cress probably are better when eaten raw.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Gov. Edward Martin expressed doubt on Wednesday over how long the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission will be able to finance the Harrisburg to Pittsburgh superhighway under present wartime conditions.

"The Turnpike is so far able to take care of its charges but how long this will last I don't know," he asserted.

The commission has more than $30,000,000 outstanding in bonds issued to underwrite the highway's construction, whose overall cost was $71,000,000. Part of the cost was defrayed by a federal government grant. Due to the war, traffic on the toll highway has decreased.

High Spirited W. & J. Students Strike Half Day

End Protest Over Athletic Holiday When War Travel Ban Is Remembered

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 18.—Over-exuberance was cited today as the reason for the brief half-day strike of students at Washington & Jefferson college after they were denied permission to take a holiday and support their team in the intercollegiate basketball tourney in New York tonight.

Virtually all classrooms were empty yesterday morning as students paraded around on the campus with various signs and posters, one of which said "a team can't win without support." The "strike" collapsed at noon, however, and afternoon classes were fairly normal.

Washington & Jefferson meets Creighton tonight in Madison Square Garden in the first round of the tournament.

College officials explained that after the first flurry of agitation had subsided, the students realized that the government ban on unnecessary travel had a lot to do with the holiday prohibition, and returned to their classrooms.

Dr. Ralph C. Hutchinson, president of the college who also is serving as state defense director, rushed home from Harrisburg and threatened to take the team out of the tourney if the students made another demonstration today.

He said that in view of the national emergency, there was no justification "for athletic holidays or student absenteeism."

YOUNG PROGRESSIVES WRITE TO MEMBERS

A novel idea took place at the Young Progressives organization on Wednesday evening when they met for their regular meeting in the Sons of Italy hall, South Mill street.

Four names of former members were chosen, who are now in the armed forces, and letters were written with each member at the meeting adding a paragraph or two in all letters.

April 4 is the next meeting when four other names will be chosen.

DEWEY CAMPAIGNER USES DIRECT METHOD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Edward H. Reuss, Jr., Philadelphia piping contractor, has no qualms about expressing his political views on the next presidential contest.

He recently had erected along the mainline of the Pennsylvania Railroad a sign 300 feet long and 12 feet high which bears the simple legend: "Dewey 1944."

"This seems to be the season for candidates and I thought I'd put mine forward," he explained, admitting, at the same time, that he has never met Thomas E. Dewey, Republican governor of New York "and I don't know anyone that has."

"But I like his set-up," Reuss said.

Women between the ages of 21 and 44 are acceptable provided they can pass the physical examination. The intelligence test us given at the New Castle Recruiting station, where they are enlisted, but the physical examination is given at Pittsburgh, transportation there and back is provided by the army. Recruits need not have a high school education to join it is stated.

There is an urgent need for recruits right now, Sgt. Bilpuch points out, and patriotic young women anxious to do something for their country are asked to investigate the many advantages the WAACs offer.

Miss Doris Irene Rogers, of 8 Craig street, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Rogers, is the latest recruit to enroll here.

Kaiser Starts New Job At Brewster

Production Genius Aims To Acquire "E" Award For Aircraft Plant

(International News Service)

JOHNSVILLE, Pa., March 18.—Henry J. Kaiser, miracle man of shipbuilding, today aimed his production genius at acquiring an Army-Navy "E" for the Brewster Aeronautical corporation.

Accompanied by Frederick Riebel, Jr., new president and chief executive of the company, Kaiser made a personal tour of the Johnsville plant and then told the assembled workers:

"I'm here for one thing. That's to put up production and help get the war over."

He refused to make any comment on previous Brewster management, explaining:

"I'm a builder at heart. I want to build. You can't build and destroy at the same time. Anything I might say about the former management might be considered as destructive.

"I was asked to do a job. I want to start afresh and do it."

He predicted "It won't be long before the workers will be enthused and production will go up."

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calhoun of the ward, recent bride and groom have returned from their honeymoon trip which included visits to New York City and Cleveland. They will make their future home in Painesville, O.

Thomas Conti of 216 W. Wabash avenue has returned home from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he has been undergoing treatment.

Louis Russo, 507 West Cherry street, has been discharged from the Jameson Memorial hospital and is getting along nicely at home.

Paul Thomas of Liberty street has been admitted to the New Castle hospital, where he will undergo treatment.

Carmen Conti of Erie has returned after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Conti of 216 West Wabash avenue. He also attended the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Conti, of Bleakley avenue.

Others get the glory; but if you wish to see the saviors of the world, look at the poor bloody, losy, dirty infantry.

WOULD HE BE ASHAMED OF YOUR CONTRIBUTION!

YOUR SON, your brother, your friend in service is counting on you at home to keep the Red Cross in the fight. For he's counting on the Red Cross to help him; perhaps to save his life.

WHAT CAN I DO?

You—who are earning a good living in spite of war restrictions,—while the men facing death on the battle front get their mite how much are you giving? IS IT ONLY A DOLLAR? Is that your limit? Perhaps that meant real sacrifice. But if not, it isn't too late to give again. Remember, this is not just a Red Cross Roll Call, it is a War Fund. Give at least double your last year's gift!

Surely no one would knowingly fail to do what he can to extend the hand of mercy to the men who dare to die for us on the battle field or the miserable, starved people subjected to the animal vengeance of the Axis. Your American Red Cross is in the war and on the battle field. They do the mercy act for you. And it takes millions and millions of dollars to do their part. Your dollars, not the government's, are their support.

Lawrence County's quota in the War Fund Drive is $96,000. Ellwood City subscribed over $30,000, more than 150% of its portion of the County quota. New Castle and the rest of the County must raise the balance. It will take an average contribution of at least three dollars from all employed workers to do the job.

That's why a dollar or two from the man on a steady job isn't enough. Remember it's for your boys, our boys, who are doing their job on the front; they deserve this help, and they are counting on you.

GIVE MORE THAN YOU PLANNED

If you haven't made your Red Cross subscription yet, or if you feel that you can give more, take it to the Red Cross solicitor in your plant or in your neighborhood, or to one of the Red Cross booths in any of the banks, or send it to RED CROSS WAR FUND HEADQUARTERS, NEW CASTLE.

All Jap Troops But Five Taken In Bismarck Sea

Rest Of 15,000 Men Killed, Captured In Battle; Those Who Escaped Rounded Up

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—All but five of the 15,000 Japanese troops in the convoy destroyed in the recent Bismarck Sea battle have been killed or captured, OWI director Elmer Davis disclosed Wednesday.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's aviators, who pounded the convoy and its escorting battle vessels to pieces, killed all but 100 of the Jap troops, Davis said. One hundred troops got ashore, he added, and all but five of these were rounded up by American troops.

Davis, however, injected a gloomy note into his war summary when he said that "it looks like March will be a bad month so far as ship sinkings are concerned.

"We can't tell just yet, however," he cautioned. "I remember that in the first part of January our sinkings situation in the Atlantic looked bad. But then in the latter half of the month, sinkings fell off to almost nothing."

The OWI director pointed out that yesterday's announcement of a British-Canadian-United States plan for intensified battle against the sub menace shows "that we can look for increased efficiency in sub fighting."

Davis predicted that there may soon be "naval news" out of the Norwegian area.

"There is considerable evidence of a heavy concentration of German ships in Northern Norwegian ports," he said.

OPINIONS HANDED DOWN

In an opinion handed down Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Braham a ruling is made on objections entered in the case of D. L. Booher and Velma Booher versus Robert Williams and Grace Williams and the First National Bank of Lawrence County. Seven of nine exceptions are overruled and the bank is dismissed as a defendant.

The case arose out of several realty transactions. The bank sold a property in Shenango township sometime before October, 1942, to the Williams'. Later they sold it to Harold A. Good and he in turn sold it to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs aver that the defendants have never consummated the sale which was agreed to and sued. The defendants entered nine objections as to the form in which the suit was drawn all but two of which are dismissed.

MEMORIAL BOARD

In the plant of the New Castle Lumber and Construction Company the memorial board ordered by the county commissioners is nearing completion and before too long it will be ready for installation upon the court house lawn. The board will contain the names of all Lawrence County men killed in action died of disease, accidents or wounds, or missing in the present war.

The board itself is eight feet by eight feet and will have a coping over it the width of which is 30 inches at the apex. A gold covered eagle will be placed at the top of the board. Two glass doors will guard the names of the service men or women from the weather. It will be flanked by two flag poles.

The county commissioners are presently considering a time for the formal dedication of the board. Memorial Day has been suggested as the proper day and this may be selected. When the board is dedicated a ceremony will be held at the site of the board.

Woman Private In Red Army Cited For Exceptional Valor

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, March 18—A woman private in the Red Army was cited today for exceptional valor in action against the Germans on the Northern Donets front.

Private Catherine Novikov was credited with inspiring Soviet male troops to charge the Nazis and repel a fierce attack against a strategic height.

She ran forward from Soviet defense positions just as a force of German tanks rushed at them, knocked out the first of the line of German tanks with hand grenades and then shot a German officer who tried to kill her with a revolver bullet.

Her troop company successfully smashed the sudden German attack and again entrenched itself safely in its former position.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills

FATHER MEETS SON, 40, FOR FIRST TIME WHILE SHAVING HIM

(International News Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 18—George T. Allen, 65, Nashville barber, had met his son, Charles Allen, 40, of Cincinnati, O., for the first time Wednesday.

The son, visiting a brother in Nashville, entered the barber shop and asked for a shave. The elder Allen, who had been advised that Charles was in town, and knowing he had a certain scar on his neck, recognized him.

"Charlie, you can't fool me. You're my son," the elder Allen said.

Allen was separated from his first wife before Charles was born and had never seen him. He married again and has six children by his second wife. The father promised today to take his family to Cincinnati this summer to visit his son's family.

Pacific War Council Receives Complete Report On War Picture There

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18—President Roosevelt on Wednesday presented to the Pacific War Council a complete survey of the general war picture in that area, including details of the great American victory in the Bismarck Sea.

This was revealed by Walter Nash, New Zealand minister, who acted as spokesman for the council at the conclusion of the White House session.

Nash said that the proposal for a United Nations conference on food problems in the post-war world also was discussed at the meeting, and he predicted that the conferences would begin within two months.

The New Zealand minister said that the conferences "definitely would be held this spring" and that discussions were going ahead on how the meetings would be organized.

Japanese Press Foresees Future U. S. Air Attack

Gloomily Tells Public To Expect American Smash At Japan's Home Soil

(International News Service)

BERLIN, March 18—(Via German Wireless)—A gloomy forecast that American airpower will smash at Japan's home soil within a few months was made today in the Japanese press, according to a broadcast by the German wireless.

Striking a note of foreboding, the Tokyo Asahi Shimbun warned that the attack on Japan's industrial districts must be expected this year or, at the very latest, in 1944.

The publication appealed to the population to be prepared, warning that the raids may be launched by the American air force from bases in the Aleutian Islands. Incongruously, after warning the population what to expect, the newspaper argued that after all the raids could not be very effective owing to the distance between the Aleutians and Japan.

Asahi Shimbun also called attention to the possibility that air bases may be established in Chungking and that attacks may be launched from airdromes already in operation in China. The paper dismissed the possibility of air attacks being launched from Siberia, declaring that Moscow had declined permission for the establishment of American bases in Russian territory.

Farm Deferments To Be Requested By County War Boards

In a move to retain essential farm labor on the job of producing food for the war effort, a memorandum issued by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has designated state and county war boards as the agencies within the department of agriculture whom other government agencies should contact on such manpower problems as the classification of agricultural registrants.

This action was taken in view of the acute need of experienced farm labor throughout the country, Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence County War Board stated. Unless farmers receive some definite assurance, immediately, that they are not going to continue to lose essential, experienced workers, it is feared they will reduce their plantings of 1943 crops.

The war manpower commission including the selective service system, and the department of agriculture have agreed on a policy of action in this regard.

County U. S. D. A. war boards are directed to initiate requests immediately for the deferment of registrants who are necessary farm workers and farm operators not now in Class 2-C or 3-C, and whose deferment has not been otherwise requested. War boards are also directed to appeal from selective service local board decisions denying registrants classification in Class 2-C or Class 3-C whenever they feel such appeals are justified.

Selective service local boards have been directed to reclassify, immediately, all essential farm workers into the 2-C or 3-C classes.

Forces Farm Draft Deferment Question

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18—The controversy over draft deferment of farm workers was put squarely before the house Wednesday when Rep. Fulmer (D.-S. C.), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee announced he would offer a farm-worker deferment amendment to the $26,100,000 farm recruitment bill now under consideration.

He would provide that any farm worker engaged in such work during most of 1942 be granted occupational deferment for the remainder of this year.

"Legislation now before the house is good enough as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough," said Fulmer. "The only way to solve the farm labor shortage is to quit drafting the trained workers away from the farms."

Vote To Put Kansas Labor Unions Under State Supervision

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., March 18—The house, by a vote of 84 to 30, on Wednesday passed a labor control bill placing Kansas labor unions under strict state supervision. The measure now goes to the senate for acceptance or rejection of house amendments.

Labor leaders are urging Gov. Andrew Schoeppel to veto the measure when it reaches his desk.

As the measure now stands business agents of labor unions must be licensed by the state; fees, dues and assessments must be filed with the secretary of the state and a report must be made of all expenditures.

Unlawful picketing was further defined by the house and sit-down strikes would be prohibited.

St. Vitus Wins Third Straight Church League Title

Fourth Quarter Onslaught Crushes Epworths, 47-39; Game Packed With Thrills

Nick Gennock, U. S. Coast Guard Star, Outstanding Man On Floor; Rivals Play Nip And Tuck Battle Until Last Four Minutes; Epworths Lead 20-18 At Halftime; "Rags" Gennock, Joe Caiazza Scoring Giants; Dart, Wimer And Wainio Tops For Losers; Capacity Crowd Sees Contest.

For the third consecutive season, the high-geared St. Vitus basketball team is No. 1 on the New Castle Church League parade.

Cutting loose with a devastating offensive spurt in the final four minutes, the rugged and smooth-operating Saints tacked up their third successive garland by sweeping the second of a three-game series with the Epworths, 47-39 last night on the Y. floor.

Sensational Game

As on Monday night, the gallery which occupied every available inch on the first floor, saw a clash overloaded with thrills. The foes moved around like whippets as they fought for the lead and the shooting was strictly sensational.

Until the clock moved into the final four minutes of play, there wasn't much of an edge either way as the localites swapped basket for basket. Like a bolt of lightning, the Saints cut loose and converted the tussle into a rout.

The top performer on the floor—by a couple of country miles—was Nick Gennock, of the U. S. Coast Guard. A member of the St. Vitus quint until he answered the call to colors, the talented athlete is home on furlough and, since service men are eligible to participate in league frays, took his place in the lineup.

Rings 7 Fielders

Gennock split the cords with seven field goals, all of them from far out. His long range firing stole the offensive show. Defensively, he took the play away from the field. Without him on the team, it is questionable whether the Saints would have copped the decision.

Dart's three fouls and Wimer's foul, under the ring, and a foul sent the Epworths ahead 6-0 with 6:03 gone. Joey Caiazza crashed the Vitus scoring column with two gift throws and "Rags" Gennock dribbled through for a deuce. Wimer came back with a push shot to boost the Epworth lead 3-4. Congini's follow up was good. He was fouled and converted as the quarter closed.

Epworths Up Lead

Wainio's easy lay-up and a foul, plus Wimer's one-handed heave gave the Epworths, a 13-7 margin in the opening minute of the second. Nick Gennock dunked an overhead flip but Wainio retaliated near mid-court. Stitzinger potted a gratis toss to send his team out front, 16-9.

Sammy Bullano, St. Vitus ace, twisted his ankle and was carried off the floor. Caiazza's three points, on a shot under the rim and a foul, and a left handed push shot by "Rags" Gennock slashed the lead, 16-14. Wainio connected from the side for the Eps but "Rags" Gennock took advantage of two Annie Oakleys.

Wainio then parked the spheroid through from the side. With three seconds left of the half, Nick Gennock shot from past the tip-off precinct. The shot dropped through. St. Vitus trailed 20-18.

Fancy Shooting Display

The third was nip and tuck. The fans were treated to one of the fanciest displays of shot making seen here in years. Caiazza teed-off with a tip in to knot the count. "Rags" Gennock birdied under to give the Saints the lead for the first time.

Wimer canned a foul but Caiazza stole the ball, pivoted the scored. Then, Nickie Gennock tallied from the center of the court. Wainio did likewise for the Eps. Dart potted an overhead heave and Wimer deuced from the side. Stitzinger followed by the same spot. Thus, in two minutes, the Epworths gained a 29-26 margin.

Caiazza got back one of the points from the free throw line and Nickie Gennock squared accounts with another long flip. Caiazza's back hand shot pushed the Saints ahead, 31-29. "Rags" Gennock meshed one out of two fouls. O'Brien broke loose for an easy score and Wimer dunked a foul to tie the count 32-32 as the stanza ended.

The Epworths muffed a chance to go ahead when Wainio and Dart fizzled on fouls. Bullano, who re-entered the clash in the third, broke the tie with a foul but Wainio scored from the center of the floor.

Dart Leaves Game

Caiazza came right back when he was loose under the basket. Nickie Gennock tried from far out and connected to give the Saints a 37-34 lead. Bullano's foul was a clean shot. Dart committed his four personal, Congini ringing one out of two.

Sleeper shots, by "Rags" Gennock and Joe Caiazza, cinched the setto for the St. Vitus representatives. N. Gennock left the clash but the damage had already been done.

St. Vitus tried 56 shots, meshing 18. The Epworths dumped 15 out of 63.

Collaborating with the Coast Guard ace were Caiazza, with 16 points, and "Rags" Gennock, with 11. Bullano's play was hampered by the injured ankle.

Wainio Scores 13

For the Epworths, second half champions, Jimmy Dart, Fred Wimer and "Zeke" Wainio were outstanding. Wainio led his mates with 13 points.

Tony "Kane" Morgan, pilot of the Saints, thus has guided the team to its third title.

"Bill" Blews coaches the Epworths, one of the finest clubs to complete in the circuit in several seasons.

TOLEDO BATTLES MANHATTAN QUINT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—Creighton, basketball champion of the Missouri Valley, reigns today as the favorite to beat Washington and Jefferson in the first quarter-finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament tonight at Madison Square Garden, while Toledo is picked to whip Manhattan.

The lower half quarter-finals will be played Monday, with St. John's opposing Rice and Western Kentucky facing Fordham.

Defeated Only Once

Creighton will bring into the Garden the season's best record—17 wins against one defeat. The Missouri team, seeded No. 1, turned up with a surprising upset last year in beating second-seeded West Texas in the opening round of the tourney, and this year has run up the staggering total of 1,017 points.

Washington and Jefferson appears to have little chance against the rugged five from the west.

Toledo has an all-freshman starting team, headed by Davage Minor, sensational negro high scorer with an average of 17 points per game this year. Toledo has won 20 and lost two.

Manhattan has the youngest array of players ever presented in the six-year history of the tourney, including Tommy Tolan, whom Clair Bee, great coach of Long Island university, rates as the best young player in town.

BUTCHER BALKING

PITTSBURGH, March 18—Holdout troubles cropped up in the Pirates' ranks today as the Buccos were slated to arrive at their new spring camp at Muncie, Ind. Pitcher Max Butcher did not accompany the advance squad, and can be regarded as a holdout. The Bucs are scheduled to do their first workouts this afternoon.

ALLEN HOLDOUT

HERSHEY, Pa. — Pitcher Johnny Allen, obtained last year in a trade for Rube Melton from the Brooklyn Dodgers, today was termed a holdout by Phillies' Manager Bucky Harris.

The temperamental hurler has returned his contract unsigned and apparently refuses to answer letters sent to his St. Petersburg, Fla., home.

The National League "tailenders," meanwhile, continued to workout on a water-sogged field.

LINDELL AT FIRST

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—Although official announcement is lacking, it is becoming apparent today that Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy is training Pitcher Johnny Lindell for a first baseman's spot in the lineup.

The six-foot-four hurler, who also knows how to take a cut at a ball with a bat, earlier had been mentioned either for the outfield or first base.

WEBBER NO. 1

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—Despite the fact that he admitted in 1941 he could not have won the pennant without the aid of Pitcher Hugh Casey, Leo Durocher had disclosed today that he had chosen Les Webber as No. 1 relief hurler for the Dodgers this season.

The Lip also disclosed that he expected to play shortstop himself for at least two months.

DYKES O. K. AGAIN

CHICAGO—Proud of his surgical scars and his 15-pound increase in weight, Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox threatened today to put himself back into the game as he prepared to lead his squad of 20 players to their spring training camp at French Lick, Ind., tonight.

Appearing fit after his gall bladder operation in California, the 46-year-old manager said the doctors told him it would be all right to do some pinch hitting after a few weeks.

ROOKIE HITS HOMER

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Joe Hoover, lone shortstop on the Detroit Tigers' team who was purchased from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league for $25,000, was hailed today as the first member of the squad to belt a ball out of the park.

Hoover got his long home yesterday off Tommy Bridges who worked on the mound with Hal Newhouser, Hal Manders and Virgil Trucks.

House Indus Race Ends In Deadlock; Miltons Win, 43-26

Ramblers Cop, 54-26, To Tie Falcons For Second Half Title Wednesday

Polish Falcons and Ramblers today are deadlocked for the second half championship of the House-Indus league.

Dumping field goals from all angles, the Ramblers gained a tie for the crown by walloping the Falcons, 54-26, last night on the Y. hardwood.

As a result, the rivals meet on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock to swish hoops for the toga.

Pour It On

The Ramblers rolled up a 16-9 halftime lead. With Riley and Preston assuming the lead, the winners poured it on as they handed the Falcons one of the worst trimmings of the season.

Preston popped 16 markers to star for the winners. Logue came next with 12. Riley, besides firing 10 points in the last half, was in on every play.

Zubkowsky and Sowinski featured for the losing five.

Miltons Easy Winners

In the second loop number, the Miltons easily spanked the Yankees, 43-26. The Yanks walked off with a 12-10 margin at the half but Humphreys and Cooper collaborated to wipe out the deficit.

Humphreys annexed 19 points while Cooper had nine. Johnson featured for the Yanks with 10 points.

Five Favorites Lose In A. A. U. Cage Tournament

Wyoming U., Phillips And Denver Legions Remain In Title Running

(International News Service)

DENVER, March 18.—Only three of the seeded quintets—University of Wyoming, Phillips Oilers and Denver Legions—remained in the running today for the 1943 national A. A. U. basketball title after five other favorites met with upset defeats.

Missing from the scene today were Hollywood's Twentieth Century-Fox, 1941 national titleholders; Cessna Aircraft of Wichita, Kan.; Fort Lewis, Wash. soldiers; Dow Chemical of Midland, Mich., and the U. S. Coast Guard from Alameda, each listed as an outstanding favorite in pre-tourney reckonings.

Five Giant Killers

In tonight's quarter-finals, in place of the ousted favorites, will be these five giant killers: the Williams Field, Ariz., Flyers; the Poudre Valley, Colo., Milkmen; the Allen Bradleys of Milwaukee, Wis.; the Salt Lake City Ekkers and Denver University's Pioneers.

Ev Shelton's Wyoming Cowboys, the tourney's No. 1 favorite, tonight clash with the Poudre Valley Milkmen. Shelton's team seems assured a berth in the semi-finals.

The Denver Legions, defending national champions, will enter tonight's tilt with the Bradleys of Milwaukee as a slight underdog. The Legions are far from last year's peak although they showed considerable improvement last night in beating the Portland, Ore., Boilermakers 63 to 29. The Bradleys now rank as one of the most dangerous outfits still in the running.

PREDICT SUCCESS

BOSTON.—Johnn McCarthy, for whom the Giants paid the Yankees' Newark subsidiary $40,000 in 1936, is likely to make good as the Braves' first baseman this year in this third National league trial. He broke in with the Dodgers in '35, hit .295 for Indianapolis last season and led the American Association in runs batted in with 133.

GEHD PRODUCT

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Charles Berry, new American league umpire, like Carl Hubbard, Green Bay's great tackle, is a graduate of the National Football league. Berry played with the Pottsville Miners.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Fighters with whom New Castle fans are acquainted will see action tonight and Friday night. Both have held a title. Tonight in Boston, Jackie Wilson, who fought Ross Fields here, will try to regain the N.B.A. version of the featherweight title from Canadian Jackie Callura. They are socketed for 10 chapters. Tomorrow night in New York, Sammy Angott, who fought here as an amateur and who "retired" as lightweight champion because of injured hands, will take on Willie Pep as featherweight champion in New York state in a 10-rounder in New York City. Meanwhile, battlers who will appear for the Elks Junior Commandos in an amateur show here March 26, are readying their physiques.

Among those who now are in uniform is Jack Potter. Jack, with his more than six feet, was a good first baseman. In our opinion he was also a keen student of "Things to Come in Sports," and we miss those pow-wows after the gang would congregate in the neighborhood. He's in Florida. . . . The Howleys, Bill and Joe, are also "In There." Bill being a weather observer at Richmond, and Joe with an anti-tank outfit in Camp Phillips, Kansas. . . . Scarcely any athletic event was conducted here without Jimmy (Santa) Claus being "Among Those Present." He had a good line on sports. He's somewhere in the U. S. but we don't know where. . . . Tom McMahon reports one of his nephews has arrived in Africa.

Report was made by an Englewood avenue resident that he seen half a dozen ringnecks strutting across the thoroughfare this morning. What is a more gladsome sight, unless it is the first robin and they've been here for some time. . . . Dick Roberts, fish deputy, reports water conditions are about as they should be at this time. Plenty of trout are being stocked. Clint White, warden, and he report. . . . There won't be much pleasure driving to streams containing fish on 1½ gallons.

STAR ENLISTS

TORONTO—Johnny Holota, center for the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, enlisted in the Canadian Army late in January.

"Indians" Add 1,141 Point In 23 Frays; Craine Is Ace Shotmaker

DEFENSE PROVES TEAM'S DOWNFALL

While they failed to cop the Section 21 championship, Wampum high's great team, nevertheless posted several noteworthy feats during the past season.

Coach L. B. Hennon fielded the top scorer in Western Pennsylvania in Coy "Springy" Craine. The colored athlete, who sparked the "Indians" to 20 wins in 23 starts flipped 196 field goals and 64 fouls for 456 points. In addition, he established the individual high for one game by rattling 48 markers against Darlington.

Anthony Marich, lanky forward, finished second with 189 points, followed by Frank Bennett with 146.

The "Indians" posted 1,141 points, averaging just below the charmed 50 point mark.

Hot Offensively

Terrific offensively, the "Indians" were a bit too loose defensively and there lies the story of their failure to annex the sectional ribbon. The opposition posted 818 points, only 323 markers less than the Hennonmen.

Even at that, Wampum represented one of the strongest units in the district and still points to its 57-55 victory over New Wilmington, the lone loss against the Class B WPIAL champions.

Williams Improves Following Operation

(International News Service)

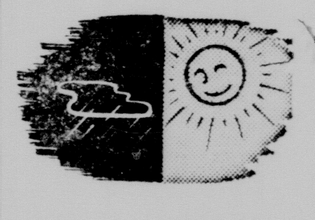

CHELSEA, Mass., March 18.—Ted Williams, American league batting champion, today was reported resting comfortably at the Chelsea naval hospital.

The baseball star, who has been undergoing flight training at the navy pre-flight school at Amherst, was incapacitated by a hernia, for which he had a minor operation. However, because his convalescence will take at least seven weeks more, he will be unable to complete the preliminary flying course by April 15.

This means he will be separated from his major league classmates, Buddy Gremp and John Sain of the Braves, Johnny Pesky of the Red Sox and Joe Coleman of the Athletics who are scheduled for transfer to Chapel Hill, N. C., for more advanced courses.

Police Sergeant Is Acquitted In Death Of Cousin

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 18.—Cleared of the gun death of his cousin, Allegheny County Police Sergeant John Boggs sought a quiet return to normal life today.

Boggs stood trial for the fatal shooting of Edward Williams, and when the jury of eight women and four men returned its verdict last night, the courtroom resounded with outbursts of delight from friends and relatives.

The police sergeant, on the stand in his own defense a few short hours before the jury received the case, testified that the shooting happened accidentally, and almost broke down as he repeated the details.

Williams and Boggs were the closest of friends. Boggs said the gun discharged in the kitchen of his home at a time when he thought it was empty. The bullet penetrated a thin wall and hit Williams in another room.

Registration For Classes Extended

Due to the inclement weather interfering with the registration for the War Training courses at the Senior high school, the Pennsylvania State College Extension Service announces that additional registration nights will be held on Thursday, March 18, and Tuesday, March 23rd.

Particular attention is invited to the following courses:

Auditing.
Chemistry of Metals and Alloys.
Engineering Drafting I.
Engineering Drafting II.
Industrial Accounting.
Office Supervision for Women.
Time and Motion Study.
Mfg. Procedures for Women.

It may be that many of the men expect to go into the army in about six months and it is felt that the training these men would receive in the Penn State training courses would greatly benefit them and increase the probability of promotion after they get into the army.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The other day we asked all those who would like to receive FREE literature to write to Post Office Box 60, giving their name and address. A very nice response arrived . . . this list that will be made up of names that are sent in will be used to supply the Victory Garden Committee with a guide as to who will be interested in Victory Gardening . . . the material that will be mailed out to you people who have made the request has been written and printed by the Pennsylvania State College Vegetable Authorities . . . Tried and proven methods of gardening are passed along . . . and when it comes time to can and to dehydrate vegetables and fruits . . . material along that line will be passed along to those who have made the request . . . With paper shortage we are forced to limit the literature to those who request it . . . if you are planting a garden or plan on canning, better send in your name . . . just write to Post Office Box 60, New Castle, Pa.

Now would be a good time for the street department to get around and fix up some of the dirt streets of the town . . . Some are in terrible condition . . . ashes for as many possible and then if the motorist would co-operate and drive over these dirt streets only when necessary so that they wouldn't be cut up again . . . everything would be in tip-top shape.

* * *

Have you given your donation to the American Red Cross War Fund? There is an outfit that really has something . . . and we take the words of the boys who are doing our fighting to speak with authority . . . When a fellow over there writes back that the American Red Cross is just like a mother to him, then it must be something. The Red Cross is everywhere that an American Soldier goes . . . even into the Prison Camps. Here is one way that you can be sure that the money you give will be used to help the boys who are helping keep you safe. So why not go into the Headquarters office in the Power Company building and GIVE . . . or maybe a solicitor lives handy . . . Don't put it off until tomorrow . . . do it today. The army, navy, marines and air corps boys are not putting it off until tomorrow . . . are you doing your part?

First Baptist Church Golden Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18—Food, fun, and fellowship combined to make the golden anniversary dinner of the First Baptist church organization last night a golden memory to be tucked away in memory's store of most enjoyable events.

The occasion was also in the form of a reception for the new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. Norman Martin, who assumed their duties here on March 1.

More than 250 members, friends and guests of the congregation assembled for the happy affair, and beginning the evening enjoyed a delicious and bountiful baked ham dinner. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Clifford McDanel assisted by the Doremus, Dorcas and Young Married People's classes.

Lovely Easter decorations centered about arrangements of jonquils formed the setting.

J. D. Sartwell served as master of ceremonies in place of David J. Jones, Jr., who was unable to attend because of illness.

Present as special guests were Mrs. George Coleman, of Beaver Falls, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Nye, of the Providence Baptist church, Melvin Hazen, only charter member of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hazen, of Frisco, who attended the dedication of the church fifty years ago; and Virgil Blinn, who arrived home from camp last night.

A welcome from the Ellwood City churches was extended to Rev. and Mrs. Martin by Rev. Herman M. Patton, president of the Ministerial Association. Rev. Patton pointed out that a fine fellowship exists between the local churches, and that their primary task is one in working together for a better world and eternity.

Rev. Martin responded and said that the cooperation of the churches had already been extended to him. Mrs. John H. Hough welcomed Mrs. Martin on behalf of the women of the church, and presented her with a lovely bouquet of mixed flowers. Mrs. Martin responded in a most charming manner.

Directed by Miss Elizabeth McKnight, Ben Carbeau, Peggy Elder, John Biordi, Amy Marsano, and Betty Jo Walzack of the high school dramatic club, presented a humorous playlet, "Love From Bud".

Accompanied by Miss Sallee Hazen, the male chorus, Paul Conner, Robert Taylor, Edward Cable, Edward Eichenlaub, William Stengle and Russell Shaffer sang two lovely selections, "Prayer Perfect" and "My Buddy".

Greetings from the Beaver Baptist Association were extended by Dr. Halbert, pastor of the Sharon Baptist church. He pointed out the many successful achievements of the new pastor in past activities.

Concluding the program was a talk by Dr. George Coleman, of Geneva college, who has supplied the pulpit for the past five months. Abounding with humor, he gave a very interesting talk on the various syllables of the word psychoanalysis stressing the importance of people working together with understanding and the realization that people are "just folks".

The closing benediction was offered by Rev. Paul Nye after which the group enjoyed an informal hour. Of much interest was the newly framed pictures of all the ministers of the church.

Tonight the Women's Missionary Society will meet in the church auditorium at 8 o'clock with friends being invited. A "March of Time" program will be given which will show the progress of the local society during the past five decades.

On Sunday morning the church anniversary service will be held at 10:30 o'clock with all former members and friends being invited to attend.

Victory Garden In Each Ward Is Plan Of C. Of C.

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—The Victory Garden committee of the Chamber of Commerce is trying to obtain land in each ward in the community so that those wishing to have a victory garden may have it in their own neighborhood. Arrangements have been completed to use the old Cole farm on the Wampum road. Owners have agreed to allow the plot to be made up into victory gardens. Anyone in the Fourth ward who does not have enough room in their own back yard and wishes to use a small plot on the old Cole farm are asked to get in touch with Paul Albino or Mrs. J. E. Houk of 745 Todd avenue.

Gardening committee officials looked over the land owned by the National Tube company yesterday and the policy as to how that land will be handled will be announced within a few days. Surveys show where some 1800 persons living here are planning on a Victory garden either in their own back yard or on a plot located in town or on a small plot of farm land. Victory gardening officials are looking for someone to plough large plots in town and then have the various gardeners in the plot pay their pro-rata share of the ploughing. Anyone interested in ploughing various large plots is urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce whose telephone is 800.

Milk Dealers Hear Recent Regulations On Advance Orders

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—Local milk dealers attended the meeting of all Lawrence and Mercer county milk dealers last night in the court house at New Castle. The meeting was called by Mr. Walsh of the United States Department of Agriculture. Milk dealers were told by Mr. Walsh that they were not allowed to carry more milk on their trucks than what would take care of their advance orders. This means that the housewife will not be able to put a note in the bottle for an extra quart for that same day. If the housewife wishes extra milk on a certain day she must order it a day in advance. This is being enforced so that the milk dealer will not carry a surplus of milk in his truck all day.

Grocery stores are not allowed to return surplus milk to the milk dealer. This will force business establishments to purchase only enough milk they are sure they can use and eliminate a waste of milk. No mention was made of rationing milk but it is understood that if the 5-point program, set up by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard does not work out, milk rationing will be put in effect. More milk must be put into by-products such as butter and cheese.

State Highway Work Goes On In Spite Of War's Triple Threat

HARRISBURG, March 18—Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer today promised "a heavy program of energetic effort by the highway department" to meet the triple threat of "war, weather and wear" to keep the state's highways in the top condition required in this critical period.

Discussing the problems and handicaps confronting the Highway Department, Shroyer said that "in spite of all obstacles that war or weather or wear may create, the department will keep Pennsylvania's highways in the best possible shape to carry the war materials which our armed forces need."

Shroyer explained that the principal difficulties due to war with which the Highway Department is confronted are the lack of personnel and materials essential to highway maintenance.

"Some idea of the inroads which war has made on Highway Department personnel," he continued, "may be gained from the fact that at this time 1453 former employes are in the armed forces."

In evidence of the handicaps due to lack of materials, Secretary Shroyer cited scores of bridges throughout the state whose construction repair has been delayed by inability to obtain priorities on necessary steel. In some instances the steel is expected within a few months, but in others it is possible that it cannot be obtained until after the war.

"Probably the greatest punishment inflicted upon the highways of Pennsylvania", he added, "is due to weather.

"It is doubly serious this year for two reasons. The first is that we had an extremely wet autumn, which soaked the ground to a greater depth than usual. When the heavy freezes of winter came, therefore, more ice was formed in the ground under the road surface, when the sub-base swell, the road surface is raised. Then as the ice melts, and the ground beneath contracts, the top surface is unsupported, and any heavy load passing over it causes the pavement to break. During the past winter, the changes in temperature were such that frequent freezing and thawing of the ground resulted, and there was more "heaving" than usual. For this reason a larger number of surface breaks occurred, and will continue to occur.

"On top of this condition caused by weather, Pennsylvania's roads have borne a large volume of commercial traffic, due largely to war production. In addition to our own traffic, the roads carry heavy war production from other states, contributing further to highway deterioration through wear.

"Under ordinary circumstances the Highway Department could meet such problems in its stride. At this period, however, it is becoming increasingly difficult to repair broken roads, due to war-created shortages in materials. But the department is sparing no effort to get these essential materials and to make repairs as swiftly as possible.

"Another difficulty was caused this winter by the greater than average snowfall Pennsylvania experienced in virtually all sections of the state. Pennsylvania takes great pride in the fact that it leads all states in the mileage of planned snow removal and ice control and its program for the present winter covers almost 20,000 miles of highway. The work is doubly important at this time because a road blocked by snow not only holds up deliveries of products essential to victory, but, what is equally important, can cause absenteeism among war workers by blocking their way to places of employment.

"Over our roads and bridges in Pennsylvania flows a tremendous volume of war traffic—materials which our soldiers and sailors need. Everything that the Highway Department can do to make their transportation swift and safe and certain must and shall be done. That is our promise to Pennsylvania, to the nation, and to all the forces fighting for human freedom."

Most Of German Fleet Massed Off Northern Norway

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 18.—A major part of the German high seas fleet is being concentrated off northern Norway to reinforce the U-boat campaign against Allied shipping lanes, a report received from Stockholm said today.

The report, carried by Reuter, credited the Stockholm Allehanda, which in turn gave its source as British circles in Lisbon.

The Nazi naval concentration was said to include not only battleships and cruisers, but also German aircraft carriers.

Their aim would be to intensify the threat to the convoy routes to Murmansk and Archangel and to shipping in the North Atlantic.

Seek Prison Terms For Violators Of State Liquor Law

Allegheny County Retail Dealers' Group Also Approves Midnight Curfew

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 18.—The Allegheny County Retail Liquor Dealers' association today proposed mandatory prison sentences for deliberate violators of the state liquor laws.

In a letter to Gov. Edward Martin, the association also approved the midnight curfew, mandatory suspensions instead of compromise fines, and elimination of license transfers "so far as possible".

Prison terms and fines were suggested for the following infractions: knowingly and wilfully serving minors; serving persons visibly intoxicated; selling after hours and on Sundays; selling intoxicating liquor and malt beverages by non-licensed persons.

The association said:

"The penalties for violations of the liquor laws, as now provided, are insufficient and act as an invitation for unscrupulous licensees and unlicensed persons to violate the law. This is particularly true of speakeasies."

Our Lord's Intercessory Prayer

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Jesus in prayer.

"Holy Father, keep them in Thy name which Thou hast given Me, that they may be one, even as We are."—John 17:11.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 21 is John 17, the Golden Text being John 17:11, "Holy Father, keep them in Thy name which Thou hast given Me, that they may be one, even as We are.")

This whole chapter 17 of the gospel of John is a prayer by Jesus for Himself on this last night of His earthly life, and for His apostles —those whom He loved. Also for all believers.

Lifting up His eyes to heaven, He said, "Father, the hour is come; glorify Thy Son, that Thy Son also may glorify Thee:

"As Thou hast given Him power over all flesh, that He should give eternal life to as many as Thou hast given Him.

"And this is life eternal, that they might know Thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent.

"I have glorified Thee on the earth: I have finished the work which Thou gavest Me to do."

Work Is Finished

He had finished His work. He had glorified His Father, and He was ready to lay down His life—his earthly life—and go to be with His Father.

But His apostles, those men whom He had chosen and who had been close to Him in all the three years of His Ministry, were now to be left without His earthly guidance. He prays for them:

"I have manifested Thy name unto the men which Thou gavest Me out of the world: Thine they were, and Thou gavest them Me; and they kept Thy word.

"Now they have known that all things whatsoever Thou hast given Me are of Thee.

"For I have given unto them the words which Thou gavest Me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that Thou didst send me.

"I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which Thou hast given Me; for they are Thine.

"And all Mine are Thine, and Thine are Mine; and I am glorified in them."

Keep Them Safe

Then He asked His Father to keep these men, beloved of Him, safe, in this world and in the next. "While I was with them in the world, I kept them in Thy name: those that Thou gavest Me I have kept, and none of them is lost.... I have given them Thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

"I pray not that Thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that Thou shouldest keep them from the evil....Sanctify them through Thy truth: Thy word is truth. As Thou hast sent Me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world."

Then He goes further, saying, "Neither pray I for them alone, but for them also which shall believe on Me through their word;

"That they all may be one; as Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in Us; that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me."

Can you not see the Master, with His face turned to the heavens, asking His Father to care for these men with whom He, Jesus, had been so closely associated, and then, praying for all those in the whole world, and in every clime, who believed on Him?

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

All plants on the Army responsible list must be blacked out completely for a five-minute period after a red signal has sounded for a blackout, and this includes exterior as well as interior lighting, according to a bulletin issued today by the OCD through the Lawrence County and City Defense Councils.

It is desirable that employes should utilize this five-minute period to seek established shelters and that duly appointed wardens should conduct their defense tasks so that all persons will be familiar with their duties in event of a real air raid. After the five-minute period workers are permitted to return to their regular assignments and resume work.

The OCD does not have any jurisdiction over the lighting of plants on the Army allocated list. However, violations of blackout regulations during the five-minute period should be checked by the local warden, who shall in turn report them to the city or county councils and they will in turn report them to the state council of defense or SCD.

It is the duty of the SCD in turn to transmit the information to the Third Service command.

The U. S. Office of Civilian Defense is issuing some civilian defense auxiliary group cards to certain employes of railroad who will be obliged to cross state lines in the performance of their duties. As yet it has not been learned whether or not an armband goes with the card. Any warden or auxiliary policeman may challenge any apparently unauthorized person. If the card is shown, the bearer shall be permitted to proceed. In this section most employes of railroads have enlisted in the Civilian Defense auxiliary group, and little difficulty is anticipated. Wardens and police should remember, the OCD bulletin states: "the bearer of the card is to pass, even if he has no Army band"

Continued Raids Seen Weakening German Morale

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18—German morale is being steadily worn down by the continuous blockade of the Reich and the steady pounding of German cities by allied bombers, a broadcast by Hans Fritsche, chief of the German Radio News Service indicated today.

The broadcast, recorded by CBS, quoted Fritsche as saying:

"Naturally, in the days after bombing raids, the affected cities have heaps of debris. But there are in every group always a few people who, at the first inconvenience in their daily life and usual habits, suddenly get all out of joint and lose their composure."

Fritsche complained that many people do not wash or shave themselves any more, while others wear shabby clothes and shoes, not caring about their personal appearance.

ADMITS SELLING "PILLS" TO HELP DRAFTEES FLUNK

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., March 18.—In a surprise move, Walter C. Crawford, Connellsville district chiropractor, changed his mind Wednesday and pleaded guilty to selling "pills" designed to enable potential draftees to flunk army physical examinations.

Crawford threw himself on the mercy of the court after a doctor testified that the pills increased a person's blood pressure. He was sentenced immediately to three years in a federal penitentiary.

West Side School Displays Model Jeep

Three West Side Pupils Eligible For $100 Bond Purchase Prizes

As an incentive to pupils of the West Side schools to purchase war stamps and bonds in the "Buy a Jeep" campaign currently in progress in city schools, a scale model of a jeep, about 4x2 feet, is on display in the first floor hall of the school.

This model, it was announced by Principal S. Glenn McCracken, would be given to the first pupil to buy a $100 bond on Monday, March 15.

As a result, three West Side pupils came in with orders for $100 bonds, so that now Miss Cleora Williams, who made the model jeep, has begun work on the second, and will make a third, so that each of the boys will receive the promised award.

Sales of stamps and bonds at the school have now reached an amount nearly sufficient to purchase a real jeep for the U. S. Army. One costs $900, and this is the goal that W. Side school expects to reach within a few days.

Constant investigation and vigilance are being exercised by South Africa to prevent the introduction into the country by airplane of yellow fever and malaria.
